2023

Mar 23: Rahul found guilty, sentenced to two years in prison; gets bail

Mar 24: Lok Sabha secretariat says Rahul stands disqualified as MP

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi was Friday disqualified from the Lok Sabha, a day after he was convicted by a Surat court for two years in a 2019 defamation case. The disqualification kicked in from March 23, the day of his conviction, a notice by the Lok Sabha Secretariat said.

In his first response, Rahul said in a tweet, "I'm fighting for the voice of India. I'm ready to pay any price."

Shocked by the political earthquake, the party decided to hit the streets and take the matter to the people. At a high-level meeting, the party decided to hold mass agitations across the country from Monday. "From Monday, party workers will hold protests to 'save democracy' across states, districts, block and panchayat levels," said party leader Jairam Ramesh.

While the top brass of the party came out all guns blazing against the BJP, the mood was aptly captured by its national spokesperson Abhishek Manu Singhvi who said the issue before the Congress was more political than legal. "It is a political issue because it signifies the systematic, repetitive emasculation of democratic institutions by the ruling party. It signifies the strangulation of democracy itself," he said.

Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge chairing a meeting at the AICC headquarters in New Delhi on Friday to chalk out their response to Rahul's disqualification

Rahul won't be able to fight elections for eight years unless he gets a stay on conviction. "We are confident we will get a stay on conviction and will remove the very basis of this disqualification," said Singhvi. It takes time to draft and file the appeal, he added, saying, "They (govt) are taking advantage of that time through these disqualification notices but we have full faith in the law."

Singhvi pointed to some disturbing features in the disqualification. "Though the conviction is by a court, in Rahul's case, the disqualification under Article 103 of the Constitution has to be by the President of India and under 103. The President has to first get the recommendation from the EC before disqualification. Admittedly it was not done," he said.

Echoing him, Ramesh said, "Rahul is paying the price for the success of the Yatra and for questioning Adani's corruption and Modi government's misdeeds."

In his pushback, BJP leader and I&B minister Anurag Thakur called Rahul a habitual loose cannon, recalling he had submitted a written apology in the Supreme Court for his intemperate remarks in 2018. Thakur went on to allege that Rahul considers himself above Parliament, the government, the judicial system and the country. He added that the Gandhi scion is on bail in as many as seven cases. P11

Vokkaligas, Lingayats get 2% more quota

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a major decision at its last Cabinet meeting on Friday, the BJP government approved increasing the reservation for Vokkaligas and Lingayats by 2% each, while scrapping the 4% Other Backward Classes (OBC) reservation for Muslims under 2B category.

The State Cabinet also approved internal reservation for Scheduled Castes by allotting percentage-based quota depending on the size of their population.

Muslims, who were getting 4% reservation under 2B of OBC (religious minorities), will now be moved to the 10% Economically Weaker Sections (EWS) quota. This will increase the reservation for Vokkaligas from the existing 4% to 6%, while that of Lingayats from 5% to 7%.

Asked about members of the Panchamasali community, who were demanding to be placed under the 2A reservation category, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the government will not touch 2A, which at present has 15% reservation given to Backward Classes.

Vokkaligas and Lingayats now fall under 2D and 2C, he added.

While approving the internal reservation for SCs by allotting percentage-based quota depending on the size of the population, SC Left will get 6%; SC Right 5.5%, Touchables 4.5% and others 1%.

The recommendations will be sent to the Union Government, Bommai said. This decision was taken as per the recommendations of the Cabinet Sub-Committee headed by Law Minister JC Madhu Swamy.

Need action, not assurances: MEA on vandalism

YESH SELI @ New Delhi

IT is the obligation of the host country to provide security to foreign missions and ensure that diplomats are able to do their work, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said on Friday, referring to the recent vandalism at the Indian high commission in London.

"These obligations were not met. We had conversations with the British government on this," Jaishankar said at an event in Bengaluru. "Many countries have different views of their own security and of other people's security. We will not accept this differential status," he added.

On Friday, the Ministry of External Affairs said India is not interested in 'assurances' by host countries but would like to see action. "Hope governments will take action and prosecute those involved," MEA spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said, referring to the acts of vandalism at Indian missions in the UK, Australia, Canada and the US.

Meanwhile, Members of Parliament for House of Commons, London, have condemned the vandalism at the Indian mission by Khalistani supporters.

Meanwhile, Delhi Police registered a case against Indian nationals involved in the vandalisation of the Indian high commission in London. It was done after the Ministry of Home Affairs directed the Delhi Police to take appropriate legal action on the receipt of a report from the Ministry of External Affairs over the incident at the Indian High Commission March 19.

INFRA WORK ROBS CITY OF GREEN COVER

From one tree for 7-8 people, B'luru now has one for 15-20; BBMP official stresses on need for tree census

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AN increase in concrete structures and infrastructure works has drastically reduced tree cover in Bengaluru city. There is little or no space left to set up a park or lung space in Bengaluru any more.

This is not all: the tree numbers tell their own story. In 2017-18, there was one tree for 7-8 people in Bengaluru. This could have now increased to one tree for 15-20 people, say IISc experts, who are closely assessing the loss of green cover across the city. Experts say this is evident from the information shared by Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) forest cell, which is giving permission for all government projects. Experts and citizens demand that a tree census be conducted in Bengaluru at the earliest, to know the ground reality.

A worker clears the last remains of a tree trunk which was axed to facilitate widening of Jaymahal Road, in Bengaluru on Friday | VINOD KUMAR T

"We get around 100-200 applications a month for felling trees, and most of them are from government agencies for various works like road widening, drain work, flyovers and many others. We don't deny permission to government agencies, but do take a look at those from private individuals. There is a need for a tree census, but due to shortage of funds, manpower and other priorities, the census has not yet been done," said a senior BBMP forest cell official. "As per studies, there were 14.78 lakh trees for 9.5 million people in Bengaluru in 2016-17, giving a human to tree ratio of 1:8.

In 2016, the green cover was 7 per cent, but has now shrunk to 3.2 per cent. This means there would be one tree for 15-20 people. Though sapling plantation drives are being undertaken, no census is being done to know the accurate picture, said Prof TV Ramachandra, from the Centre for Ecological Sciences, IISc.

He added that the government is violating High Court orders, issued two years ago, by not conducting the census. Ramachandra pointed out that on an average, trees release 540-980 gm of carbon dioxide a day. One hectare of trees can absorb 6-8 tonnes of carbon dioxide per year. But now trees with smaller canopies are also a matter of concern. Ideally, there should be eight trees for a person.

Modi to launch Whitefield-KR Pura line today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will on Saturday formally declare open the 13.71-km Eastern Extension line from Whitefield Kadugodi to KR Pura, a line with 12 brand new stations. This will take Bengaluru's Metro network to 69.66km and 63 stations, making it the second largest after tje Delhi Metro.

The PM will take the inaugural train, which is expected to leave at 12.55 pm to the Sri Satya Sai Hospital station, around 4km away, and return by the same train without alighting anywhere in between.

Locopilot Priyanka will have the honour of steering the PM on his onward trip, while the return trip will be steered by an LP with a similar name, Priyanka Ballary, said a source. "This is the tentative timing. The start depends on the PM's return from Chikkaballapur," he added.

From Whitefield (Kadugodi), the train will stop at Hope Farm, Channasandra, Kadugodi Tree Park, Pattandur Agrahara and Sri Sathya Sai Hospital. Due to engines on both ends, the return trip will commence immediately, with the other locopilot operating it. The other stations beyond the hospital are Nallur Halli, Kundalahalli, Seetharam Palya, Hoodi, Garudacharpalya, Singayyanapalya and Krishnarajapura, said an official release today. The names of six stations have been changed, bowing to public demand.

Along with the PM, the inaugural train will have ministers, MPs, MLAs, a handful of top Metro officials and selected members of the public. It will be dominated by security personnel throughout.

Beginning Sunday, five trains will be run at a frequency of 12 minutes.

This stretch, built at a cost of nearly Rs 4,000 crore, includes Rs 1,025 crore spent towards. compensating land losers, said another source. A total of 394 properties running into 2,80,000 square metres were acquired for the line, which is connected with the Kadugodi depot.

The release said that BMRCL has widened Whitefield Road with three lanes in each direction. The extension is estimated to result in incremental ridership of 1.5 lakh, it added. Parking facility has been provided at Krisharajapuram and Whitefield Kadugodi stations, service roads around the station and FOBs are in the offing to connect Metro stations with railway stations, it added.

Poll readiness: BBMP to act strictly against illegal banners

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH the Assembly election approaching and the Model Code of Conduct likely to be in force anytime soon, the BBMP is poised to take more stringent action with regard to implementation of rules regarding defacement of public places and illegal banners and posters, leading to public nuisance.

As an indication, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath, who is also the Bengaluru City District Election Officer, issued a circular asking the Zonal Commissioners, who will be nodal officers, to ensure that the BBMP Act, 2020, is not violated.

He said a special team will be constituted, which has to coordinate with police and act against public nuisance under Section 254 of the BBMP Act, including the removal of hoardings, banners, and buntings, and initiate penal action against violators under the law.

Girinath stated that with regard to a ban on illegal banners and public nuisance, this is already being addressed under the Municipal Rules and once the MCC comes into effect, the same rules shall apply and any violation by officials in failure to implement the same, will also be liable for action under the provisions of the Representation of Peoples Act, 1951, Indian Penal Code, 1860, and relevant laws.

"Anytime that the MCC does come into effect, and these rules will have to be followed, failing which action will be taken on concerned officials," said Girinath.

Tejasvi launches Krishnadevaraya Stn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BENGALURU South MP Tejasvi Surya on Friday morning formally declared open a Rs 2.08-crore Foot Over Bridge (FOB) at Krishnadevaraya Halt Station in Vijayanagar. The FOB was already being used by the public since December last year. One of the two wide ramps alone was not ready, and they have a new addition too.

This is a crucial passenger amenity here as the public trespassed the tracks to change between the only two platforms here. Locals Boranna, Chandrashekariah and Balaram were asked to cut the inaugural ribbon.

The ramps are intended for divyangjans (physically challenged) and senior citizens. Many locals surrounded the MP and demanded stoppage of more trains. Lakshmi Narasimhan, a social worker speaking on their behalf, said, "We have nine trains stopping here onward, and return on a daily basis. Nearly 1,000 people in Krishadevaraya and surrounding areas alight at the station daily. We are keen that four more trains stop here."

The Foot Over Bridge will curb trespassing railway tracks to change platforms. There are ramps for the specially-abled and senior citizens | EXPRESS

The train list submitted to the MP asked for stoppage of Bengaluru-Mysuru Passenger (06255), Mysuru-Talaguppa Express (Train no. 16227), Chamarajanagar to Tirupati Express and in its pair, (Train nos 16219/16220). Surya wanted the Railways to consider them, particularly the evening Bengaluru-Mysuru Passenger as many women in the area use them.

A release said the project was sanctioned in the Railway Budget in the year 2018-19. Work began in September 2019. Covid-19 and remote location were among the reasons for the delay in completion. Each ramp runs to a length of 81.5 metres and a width of 3 metres and stairs too are provided. The width of both platforms has been increased and boundary walls constructed, it said.

Survey on saplings planted by BMRCL shows poor results

Bengaluru: A survey conducted by members of various resident welfare associations, activists and locals residing around three water bodies, on the saplings planted by BMRCL shows poor results. The study -- A Report on Rapid Assessment on Status of Saplings planted by BMRCL under Compensatory Afforestation in Three Lakes of Bengaluru -- which was submitted to the BMRCL on Friday, by the residents and volunteers from Action Aid, was conducted around Sarakki, Veerasagara and Gottigere lakes. The study showed that 16.5% of the saplings were water-stressed, 4.2% seemed dead, tree guards were found around just 192 saplings, 113 saplings were seen tied using a binding wire to hang the board with tree numbers, six illegal entries were found at Sarakki and Veerasagara lakes where cattle could enter, while the Gottigere lake was not fenced and waste was seen thrown around the saplings.

Issue passport to stateless minor boy: HC to officer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

COMING to the rescue of a 'stateless' minor child who does not hold citizenship of any country, the Karnataka High Court directed the Chief Passport Officer to issue a passport in favour of the 15-year-old boy, till he attains 18 years. Till such time, the existing passport shall stand extended, and no coercive or precipitative action shall be taken against the boy, the court added. Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order while partly allowing a petition filed by the minor boy, represented by his mother residing in the United Kingdom.

"Myriad circumstances prevailed, leading to the defenceless situation of the child. The biological father, though now separated from the mother, is still an Indian, notwithstanding the fact that he is not traceable. Merely because the father is not traceable and the mother has been reckless in not knowing the consequences of renouncement of citizenship, the fate of the child cannot be left in limbo," the court observed.

Reserving liberty to the boy to resume Indian citizenship once he comes of full age in terms of proviso to 8(2) of the Citizenship Act, the court observed that merely because a minor has no voice in the affairs of the state qua citizenship or otherwise, courts exercising jurisdiction under Article 226 of the Constitution, cannot shut its doors to the cry of a child.

After his parents relocated to Canada, the child had intermittently stayed in Canada and then in India, with his grandparents. After staying for one year in Canada, his father came back to India with the son in 2012, left him with his maternal grandparents and abandoned him. His mother continued to stay in Canada and also acquired Canadian citizenship.

Meanwhile, a family court granted divorce to the couple and ordered permanent custody of the son to the mother in 2018. The minor passport issued to the son expired in 2020, and an application was filed for re-issue of the passport, which was denied saying the minor son also ceases to be a citizen of India.

'Find a solution'

Observing that "the parents forgot the child in the jugglery of settling scores", the court said: "Perhaps lawmakers would not have envisaged a situation of this kind to think of a solution in its rules, guidelines or procedures stipulated under the circulars, be it under the Citizenship Act or Passports Act.."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

25TH March : Today is a key date in the life of the Unconquered Sun, in the form we call Mitra, or Mithras. He was the god responsible for dividing history into great ages, measured by the movement of the stars. In ancient times he was worshipped all the way from India through Persia, right up into northern Britain. Not many people know that Indian influences reached all the way to Scotland two thousand years ago!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
This is a moment to boast, believe in yourself and generally aim for the top. If you imagine that it is best to be humble, and to hide your talents under a stone, you will miss out. The one important condition is to avoid bad-tempered people - especially the ones who don't believe in you!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You have long ago realised that there are situations in which the best plan is to stay still and avoid being noticed. This may be your most effective strategy unless, that is, you are prepared to turn your life upside down! It all depends on how much confidence you have - and courage!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You have no doubt discovered what other people have been up to, but don't imagine that you know the whole truth. This is a very useful time for travel, partly because the results will exceed your expectations. It's possible that an unexpected encounter could take your life in a new direction.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Think about what you can do for others. Within the family it seems to be children and younger relatives who need maximum unconditional support. Your behaviour may be largely dominated by events which took place a long time ago, and memories which may be buried deep in your unconscious.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You are probably unaware of just how much you can influence other people, and it's therefore very important indeed to be positive - to encourage, cajole and enthuse them, creating a sense of hope. This is in spite of the fact that you may be a little wobbly emotionally.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may well have hidden fears and suspicions, perhaps because you imagine that an agreement is coming unstuck. Careful and practical action is the answer. Also, raise your spirits with pleasant daydreams, and spend a little time planning those much-needed improvements.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Seen from one angle your stars are positively riotous, although social costs may spiral out of control unless you take firm action. Old friends may be on your mind, so get in touch. Steer clear of conflict; even if that does mean postponing a particular appointment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your stars have seldom looked more competitive. Put aside any doubts, overcome all qualms, and set out to be number one in love, at home and at work. Only accept those social taboos and constraints which suit you. And don't let everyone else know your intentions - unless you absolutely have to.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Life is in the balance and could swing either way, whether towards confrontation or towards great joy. The choice is yours. The main consideration, though, is always to aim for the most adventurous options, broadening your horizons and catching a glimpse of the larger picture.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You seem to be going through an extravagant phase and, in some cases, that may be an understatement! Domestic and family commitments could add to the monetary burden, while personal relationships are heading for an intense period. The next few weeks could bring surprises, so get ready.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Matrimonial and partnership affairs become even more important - if such a thing were possible. It is necessary to put your own interests to one side ever so briefly, offering your full emotional support to people you love. I hope they'll appreciate your sacrifice.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
The one thing which really bothers you now concerns the extent to which you have been exploited. It is never pleasant to have your emotions taken for granted, but that is what seems to have happened. Perhaps you should pick the right moment and explain how you feel.

Panel to release life convicts must meet at least 6 times/yr

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

The High Court of Karnataka has ordered the state government to direct the Life Convicts Release Committee headed by the Principal Secretary, Home Department, to meet at least six times a year (once in two months) for timely consideration of applications of convicts.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order recently after hearing a petition filed by Omkarmurthy, a life convict housed in Central Prison, Bengaluru, for murder.

What drove the petitioner to the court was that his case was not placed before the committee by the Chief Superintendent of Central Prison and the committee, which should have met once in two months, had not met for eight months.

Contending that he has been in prison for 16 years and 10 months and the jail authorities have issued certificates favouring his release on good conduct, the petitioner sought his premature release along with the entitlement of remission before the jail authorities.

"Till the application of the petitioner would merit consideration before the committee, he would be entitled to be released on parole, in accordance with the law, for a period that the authorities of the jail would prescribe or till such time, the committee would meet and consider the case of the petitioner," the court said while ordering the government to direct the committee to meet on or before April 10, 2023, and consider the case of the petitioner and the like, whose cases are placed before it, for consideration of their cases for remission/premature release.

Referring to the judgments of the apex court, the HC noted that the committee should at least meet six times a year, which would mean once in two months, as the life convicts are statutorily entitled to consideration of their premature release as per the guidelines notified by the state, without any loss of time.

Ayushmati Clinics to start soon

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and the Health Department are making preparations to open Ayushmati Clinics in the city and other parts of the state, sanctioned under the National Health Mission (NHM) last year.

Unlike the recently launched Namma Clinics, these wellness centres will help women get treatment from specialist doctors free of cost.

Dr Naveen Bhat, Director, NHM, told The New Indian Express that 50 clinics in the state are ready to start operations. The Health Department is making efforts to open 70 of the 128 clinics by March- end.

The project was launched in July 2022 to set up clinics in Urban Public Health Centres (UPHC) in the state. As announced by the Health Department, 57 clinics will be opened in BBMP limits and the rest in other parts of the state.

Dr Bhat said the clinics will be set up at UPHCs where services of paediatricians, gynaecologists, obstetricians and mental health specialists will be made available to patients. The aim of these clinics is to provide specialist services to people in urban areas at the nearest primary health centre, Dr Bhat said.

Gadkari gets second threat call from Hindalga jail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

EVEN as the police are investigating a threat call made to Union Minister Nitin Gadkari allegedly from the Hindalga prison a few weeks ago, another threat call was received by Gadkari's office from the same location. Late on Thursday night, a team of police officers from Maharashtra carried out an inspection at Hindalga prison in connection with the phone call made to the minister's office for the second time.

According to the sources, the caller demanded crores of money by calling Gadkari's office besides threatening the receiver of the call at Gadkari's office. The phone call was received at Gadkari's office on Tuesday and the caller wanted the money to be paid to him through the mobile payment app Google Pay.

K'taka bags silver for low TB cases

Bengaluru: Karnataka has been the only state since 2015 which has reduced incidence of tuberculosis (TB) cases. The state was awarded with a silver medal on World Tuberculosis Day on March 24. Prime Minister Narendra Modi presented the award at the "One World TB Summit" organised in Varanasi. Six districts -- Kodagu, Chitradurga, Bidar, Hassan, Chikkamagaluru and Ramanagara -- were also awarded a bronze medal in the district category for recording a 20 per cent decline. The states which have managed to reduce the TB cases by 60 per cent were awarded gold, silver for 40 per cent and bronze for 20 per cent. No state has managed to achieve targets for a gold medal. The initiative was taken to reward well-performing states that are working towards achieving the "TB Free" status which is in alignment with Modi's target of eradicating tuberculosis from India by 2025.

To please BSY, Shah makes his son feel good

Master strategist acknowledges ex-CM's importance in BJP's electoral prospects

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

AS Union Home Minister Amit Shah arrived on the driveway of BS Yediyurappa's residence for breakfast on Friday morning, the former chief minister himself stood at the entrance to receive Shah with a bouquet in hand. But getting out of the car, Shah gestured towards Yediyurappa's son and state BJP vice-president BY Vijayendra even as Yediyurappa looked confused. Realising that the message has not hit home, Shah stood beside Vijayendra and accepted the bouquet from him and took the bouquet from Yediyurappa's hand later.

The well-orchestrated sequence was to send out an all-important message that the party wants to keep the Lingayat strongman happy and that it does not want him to cause harm to the party's prospects ahead of crucial elections by being indifferent.

BJP state vice-president BY Vijayendra welcomes Union Home Minister Amit Shah with a bouquet at former CM BS Yediyurappa's Bengaluru residence | EXPRESS

Shah receiving the bouquet from Vijayendra is a sign that the party is willing to publicly recognise Vijayendra and to honour his claim for a more important position in the party.

The photo-op is the result of the party's realisation that Yediyurappa's calculated indifference could cause much harm to the party's poll prospects. It is also a discomfiting acknowledgment that Lingayat leaders of substance like Mohan Limbikai, VS Patil and Kiran Kumar have deserted the saffron party and joined Congress.

Shah, the master strategist that he is, has realised that multiple visits by the PM, party chief JP Nadda and himself to Karnataka would not translate into a bigger vote share for the party without Yediyurappa, the catalyst. And hence, the public acknowledgement of Vijayendra's importance, which is what Yediyurappa wants the most.

MY TAKE

ARE WE LETTING GO OF SCIENCE FROM BENEFITTING THE MASSES?

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

SCIENCE applied for solving problems of people is successful science. It does not remain on paper to be wowed or criticised by peers. It benefits the needy. But science does not always take that route. Often, it leaves the lab to miss the target beneficiaries to emerge as a lucrative business opportunity for those with capital in hand.

After demonetisation on November 8, 2016, farmers in some areas of the state refused to harvest the tomato crops. They faced payment problems as the currency was declared void. Tonnes of tomatoes were laid to waste, posing losses for the farmers.

About three decades prior to that, a centre named Application of Science & Technology for Rural Areas (ASTRA) under the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) developed a technology meant to help farmers precisely for such eventualities, besides in times of drought or glut. It was the fruit and vegetable dryer, which can dehydrate fresh produce, allow it to be powdered, and packed in cellophane bags. This packed produce offers a shelf-life between nine months and a year. Studies conducted by researchers at ASTRA — later renamed Centre for Sustainable Technologies (CST) — revealed that the dried produce is as healthy as its fresh counterpart and maintains the same levels of vitamins, minerals and nutritional value.

The technology offers huge multiple benefits. It can help farmers render their fresh produce dry and store it in a powdered form to save their harvest from being laid to waste. They can store and sell it over-the-counter. And most importantly, it offers rural womenfolk an ideal way to entrepreneurship by running these dryers and making business out of selling the produce in a dried form. It is a win-win technology that should have been a success across the state.

The efforts of the NGOs need to be supplemented by a more direct and hands-on involvement by officials and staff of departments like Rural Development & Panchayati Raj.

Unfortunately, it took root only in some pockets of Karnataka, particularly Sirsi in Uttara Kannada and Aralaguppe in Tumakuru.

Technology Informatics Design Endeavour (TIDE), an NGO, was active in the lab-to-farm technology transfer, besides spreading awareness — including among rural women — about the benefits of the dryer.

The dryer that was meant to benefit farmers save their crops and offer their womenfolk promising entrepreneurship avenues, now finds mention on the list of sale offers of online sale-and-delivery giants. Farmers continue throwing tonnes of fresh vegetable produce on the roads when prices hit rock bottom. This indicates that the technology, despite its multiple benefits, could not find appeal among the rural people.

A senior official from Karnataka's Panchayati Raj department recently admitted that one of the most challenging tasks on their hands is to simplify government orders to the common rural folks. One can guess how much more challenging is the task of making them understand the 'rocket science' behind hands-on technologies from the labs of institutes like the IISc — even if it means a thriving business for rural women through self-help groups while saving their men and their hard labour from the vagaries of pricing and nature.

NGOs, like TIDE, play a crucial role. But their efforts need to be supplemented by a more direct and hands-on involvement by officials and staff of departments like Rural Development & Panchayati Raj. One of the missions of this department is to provide rural infrastructure and socio-economic growth opportunities for the poor in rural areas. One of its objectives is to alleviate poverty through providing self–employment and wage employment. What better opportunity stares in their face than the one brought out by ASTRA, now CST? That too, when women's self-help groups are in focus as a significant part of rural development.

Failing which, our pride about Karnataka being in the forefront of science in the country needs to be counterbalanced by a quote from famous astronomer-author late Carl Sagan: "We live in a society exquisitely dependent on science and technology, and yet have cleverly arranged things so that almost no one understands science and technology."

JDS to wait for Congress, BJP final lists

ENS @ Hassan

Former minister HD Revanna said on Friday in Holenarasipur that JDS is ready to face Assembly elections if the election dates are declared tomorrow. JDS leaders including party supremo HD Deve Gowda, former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy and party state president CM Ibrahim have been devising strategies to decide on winnable candidates in 224 Assembly constituencies, Revanna said.

Sources said JD leaders are planning to announce the second list of candidates immediately after Congress and BJP come up with their final list.

Referring to former AICC president Rahul Gandhi's disqualification as an MP, Revanna said BJP is indulging in vendetta politics, and is also targeting other leaders of prominent opposition parties.

Mamata to campaign?

In a significant development, former CM HD Kumaraswamy called on West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee in Kolkata on Friday evening.

Banerjee, after learning about the success of JDS' Pancharathna Yatra, has promised to campaign for the party ahead of the elections, said a press release by Kumaraswamy.

Over 10 lakh people are expected to attend the event and they are arriving from Davanagere, Chitradurga, Shivamogga, Vijayanagara, Haveri, Ballari, Gadag, Hubballi-Dharwad, Chikkamagaluru and Tumakuru districts.

A thousand cooks are preparing upma and kesari bath for breakfast, and pulao, curd rice and godhi huggi for lunch. In all, 400 counters have been opened to distribute food at the venue, which is spread across 400 acres.

Emergency unofficially declared in India, says Siddu

KPCC president DK Shivakumar and CLP leader Siddaramaiah during a sit-in protest against the government over SC/ST reservation hike | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS leaders on Friday slammed the Centre over disqualification of former AICC president Rahul Gandhi as MP after his conviction in a defamation case. "It's a Black Day in parliamentary democracy," they said. Former CM Siddaramaiah said the Modi government demonstrated its "cowardice" by resorting to such a move as it is unable to digest the truth spoken by Rahul.

"We will fight against such injustice. Emergency has been unofficially declared in India. The Centre has taken such a decision to silence those speaking against Narendra Modi, BJP and NDA government," Siddaramaiah said.

The former CM alleged that the Centre is trying to suppress those speaking against injustice. Leaders should forget their political affiliations and come together to protest against the Centre's action, he said and urged party workers not to take law into their hands.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar said, "They can disqualify Rahul Gandhi's Lok Sabha membership, but they cannot remove him from the hearts of crores of Indians."

Congress MP DK Suresh said Rahul won't get scared by the Centre's action. "This is hate politics and this dictatorship regime will soon end. Such attempts to silence the Opposition will not work as the Congress will continue its struggle to protect democracy," he said. Congress MLA Priyank Kharge said the disqualification of Rahul as an MP will have its impact on Karnataka. "Disqualifying Rahul is a decision taken in haste to divert the attention of Opposition parties which have been seeking formation of a JPC to investigate the allegations against the Adani group," he said.

Priyank said a meeting with Shivakumar will be held soon to decide on the next course of action.

Meanwhile, BJP leaders welcomed the action against Rahul and termed it a strong message to those making irresponsible remarks.

GOVT 'BETRAYED' SC/STs, DISMISS IT: CONGRESS TO GUV

Bengaluru: A Congress delegation led by KPCC president DK Shivakumar, and comprising former DyCM Dr G Parameshwara and Opposition Leader in Legislative Council BK Hariprasad on Friday met Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, and demanded that he dismiss the incumbent government for allegedly betraying SC/ST communities. After the meeting, Shivakumar said, "As the end of his tenure nears, Basavaraj Bommai hiked SC/ST reservations as per the recommendations of Justice Nagamohan Das committee," stated the Congress memorandum. "Shockingly, the treachery and conspiracy hatched by the BJP and the Basavaraj Bommai government against the SC/ST community have been exposed in Parliament on March 14, 2023, when the Modi government told the Parliament that it does not propose to hike quota of SCs from 15% to 17% and STs from 3% to 7% in Karnataka," it stated. Earlier, the police had detained Congress leaders.

Siddu slaps worker over ticket demand

Former CM Siddaramaiah on Friday allegedly slapped a person for demanding Congress ticket for his leader. Sources close to Siddaramaiah said supporters of BJP MLC had gathered at the former CM's Bengaluru residence and one of them repeatedly asked for a Congress ticket for his leader. Irked by the person's behaviour, Siddaramaiah allegedly slapped him.

Give nod for Varuna, Siddu tells party top brass

Chitradurga: Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah on Friday claimed that he has informed his party high command to clear his name for Varuna Assembly constituency. He told mediapersons, "I have requested the party high command to clear my name for Varuna constituency. My family also wants me to contest from another constituency." With this announcement, the confusion over Siddaramaiah's choice of seat apparently ends.

Vigil along sea can end drug menace: Shah

ENS @ Bengaluru

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah said there is a need to increase vigil along the southern sea route to tackle drug trafficking, besides giving thrust for thorough investigation in drug cases.

Chairing the Regional Conference on Drug Trafficking and National Security for Southern States/UTs organised by the Narcotics Control Bureau here on Friday, Shah said the southern sea route from Makran Coast to the Indian Ocean is one of the prominent routes, and vigilance must be improved specifically in this region. "Ships from the Pakistan and Iran route load drugs and traffick them to Sri Lanka till Africa, via the Indian Ocean. It has to be ensured that drug trafficking on this route is stopped completely, as until then drugs will continue to enter India via this route," he said.

Noting that the fight against drugs was not just the fight of the Centre or state governments but every individual household, he said detection of drugs, destruction of the network, detention of culprits and rehabilitation of drug addicts were four pillars to eradicate the drug menace. "The PM's vision is to achieve complete literacy and make India a $5 trillion economy, and it is possible to achieve it only by winning the fight against drugs," he said.

Expressing displeasure over the investigation of NDPS cases, Shah called upon agencies to make use of stringent laws while probing narcotics cases. "We need to change our approach in dealing with narcotics cases, and adopt top-to-bottom and bottom-to-top investigation to destroy drug networks. No drug case should be investigated in isolation and there must be cooperation, coordination and collaboration between all agencies to tackle the social evil effectively," Shah said. The conference saw 9,298kg of seized narcotics worth ₹1,235 crore being destroyed.

Wherever Congress comes to power, it promotes anti-national activities. Under Modi's regime, organisations like PFI have been banned, but [former CM] Siddaramaiah and Congress tried to protect such organisations — Amit Shah, Union Home Minister

Panchamasali Lingayat community religious head Sri Jayamruthyunjaya Swamiji here on Friday evening said a decision will be taken on Saturday as to whether they will continue with their agitation for the 2A reservation tag for the community or not.

"Since the cabinet decision to increase the quota for Lingayats has not reached us, community members should not celebrate it as a victory. We have waited for 25 years and let us wait for another ten hours. The decision and message will be passed on to community members on Saturday," he said.

He was speaking to the media after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai announced that the cabinet had resolved to provide a 7 per cent quota for Lingayats, including Panchamasalis -- an increase of 2 per cent from the present 5 per cent under 2D for the Lingayat community.

Swamiji said the community's executive committee meeting will be held at the Freedom Park, where the dharna is being held for the last 70 days, and a decision will be taken.

The decision on continuing with the strike will be evolved only after a discussion with community leaders, including former Union minister Basanagouda Patil Yatnal of BJP, Vijayananda Kashappanavara of Congress and the legal committee, he said.

Siddu: It's a poll gimmick

ENS @ Bengaluru

CLP leader Siddaramaiah said here on Friday that the changes made in the reservation categories will not benefit anyone and it is just a gimmick with an ulterior motive of getting political benefits ahead of the Assembly polls.

"The government has scrapped a 4% quota for Muslims and distributed it to Vokkaligas and Lingayats. It is like snatching from one community to give it to another and the BJP is trying to create animosity among communities," he alleged. Though CM Basavaraj Bommai said that Muslims will be given the reservation under the economically weaker section quota, it is not easy to do so, he said. On the internal reservation for SCs, the ex-CM said it is a lengthy process.

Bommai: 15 Muslim groups under category-I will not be disturbed

THE chief minister said under OBC, at present there is most backward (category-I) 4%, more backward (category - 2A) 15%, 2B (religious minorities) 4% , 3A (Vokkaligas and others) 4% and 3B (Panchamasali and Veerashaiva Lingayat) 5%. This was to be reviewed once in 10 years, but was not done even after 20 years, he added.

The Backward Classes Commission headed by Jayaprakash Hegde received many appeals and requests to review it. The commission members travelled across Karnataka and gathered information based on hearings.

According to their interim report, in Karnataka, three reservation categories were not needed as the lifestyle of members from most backward and more backward categories was almost the same. Only two categories were considered sufficient.

- Vokkaligas' quota will be increased from existing 4% to 6%, Lingayats will get a hiked reservation of 7% from the existing 5%
- Muslims, who were getting 4% reservation under 2B of OBC (religious minorities), will now be moved to the 10% EWS
- As per internal reservation to SCs, the cabinet decided to provide SC Left (6%), SC Right (5.5%), Touchables (4.5 %) and others (1%)

At the Belagavi Cabinet meeting, it was decided that 3A and 3B would now be made 2C and 2D. However, the Government Order has not been issued yet.

Apart from this, there were demands from various communities to increase quota based on their population. The commission recommended shifting a few communities from OBC to the new EWS category. Based on this recommendation, the Cabinet took the decision. The 2B category, which is for religious minorities, has no provision in the Constitution. In Andhra Pradesh, when the government took this step, the Supreme Court struck down the decision of giving reservation for religious minorities. Even Dr BR Ambedkar had said reservation is for the caste and not for religion, Bommai said.

However, 15 Muslim categories, which fall under category-I, will not be disturbed. Even certain people under 2A will also not be disturbed. There are a few castes which do not fall under any category. Such castes will be studied in the future. Speaking about the ST quota for Kuruba community, he said the University of Mysore's anthropology department has submitted a report. Government will take a decision on Koli and Kadu Golla communities soon, he said.

Balija community demands job reservation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

MEMBERS of the Balija community on Friday demanded that the government provide immediate job reservation for them in the state

Speaking to reporters on Friday, Former minister and Karnataka KPCC vice-president MR Seetharam said the community has been fighting for job reservation for years. The separate development corporation announced by the BJP has not benefited them. Terming it an election gimmick, KPCC members said that the community has largely been neglected, making them remain socially, economically and politically backward.

It was highlighted that the Backward Classes Commission chaired by Chinnappa Reddy considered the Balija community under the reserved category which made them eligible for education and employment benefits. However, in 1994, they were shifted from reserved category 2-A to 3-A under political pressure.

Meanwhile, the Balija community members are distributed across the districts of Bengaluru, Tumakuru, Mandya, Mysuru, Ballari, Chitradurga, and Hassan.

In 2011, the community was again added under the 2-A category, only for the educational rights, KPCC members said. Hence, they demanded a reservation facility providing employment and political representation too.

RAHUL'S DISQUALIFICATION A BLACK DAY FOR DEMOCRACY: KCR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

REACTING to the disqualification of Congress leader Rahul Gandhi as a Member of Parliament on Friday, BRS national president and Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao said it was a "black day for democracy".

"Today is a black day in the history of Indian democracy. Rahul Gandhi's disqualification from Parliament is the height of PM Narendra Modi's arrogance and dictatorship," Rao alleged.

In a statement, he claimed that it was highly reproachable that the Modi government was not only abusing Constitutional institutions, but also using the highest democratic platform -- the Parliament – for its nefarious activities.

It was the adverse time for democracy and the Constitutional values, he added.

"The Modi regime has overshadowed the Emergency," he claimed, adding that the harassment of Opposition leaders has become routine. "Modi is collapsing democracy on his own by disqualifying Opposition leaders to protect criminals and cheaters. This was not the time for conflicts between parties," Rao stated.

BRS working president and IT Minister KT Rama Rao tweeted: "Disqualification of @RahulGandhi Ji is a blatant misinterpretation of Constitution. The hastiness showed in this issue is highly undemocratic. I condemn this (sic)".

Officials need more power to stem pollution

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TOURISM and Environment Minister Anand Singh on Friday said that more power should be given to regional officials to book criminal cases against individuals and organisations for polluting the environment.

He said at present, all that an official from the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) can do is to give a notice and the industry or organisation continues with its activities for it believes nothing more could happen. To ensure a better environment, stricter norms are necessary. He appealed to the Central Pollution ControlBoard and to the Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change to give regional officers the power to book criminal cases.

He was speaking on the sidelines of the launch of electric vehicles for the KSPCB, a mobile app to facilitate the process for industries and consumers, and the launch of the green core rating initiative to all industries in the state, at an event organised by the KSPCB.

He said that laws from other countries are being brought it, but the existing laws are being trespassed by citizens and officials. A simple thing of not to litter the city is also an environmental concern, but is not followed in India, however it is done better in other places.

Karnataka, Bengaluru contribute to India's global image, says Jaishankar

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar on Friday said that India's global image has been bolstered by Karnataka and its capital Bengaluru.

Speaking at the BJYM Yuva Samvada, in conversation with Bengaluru South MP Tejasvi Surya, he answered questions from students, and said that both the city and the state have played a leadership role in the India's growth story, as it especially is willing to embrace modernity. with its issues. "If we are firm on tough issues at a global level, the kind of respect we generate is very different. How a country behaves when its security is threatened and its people are under defines its character. We are also no longer a receiver of ideas in the global context. We have become a giver, provider and responder, a significant change in how the world views India," he said.

This was reflected in the fact, he said, "in the success of our democracy in which our leadership and those who play a major role do not necessarily come only from big cities, but from rural areas. The more variety in representations we have, the more we will become Bharat."

MLC polls: YSRC suspends 4 legislators for cross-voting

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

THE ruling YSRC on Friday suspended four of its legislators for cross-voting in favour of the Opposition TDP in the MLC elections under MLA quota, which enabled the Opposition party to win one of the seven seats that went for polls on Thursday. The party said the four MLAs, including three from Nellore were suspended for their alleged anti-party activities.

It may be recalled that the TDP, which technically had support of just 19 MLAs, polled 23 votes and went on to win one MLC seat. TDP's Panchumarthi Anuradha secured four votes of the ruling YSRC. Soon after the results were announced, the YSRC said that it had identified those who had resorted to cross-voting. As a result, the party suspended Anam Ramnarayana Reddy (Venkatagiri constituency), Kotamreddy Sridhar Reddy (Nellore Rural), Mekapati Chandrasekhar Reddy (Udayagiri) and Undavalli Sridevi (Tadikonda) on Friday.

"Our internal probe revealed that some MLAs have been lured to cross-vote and a decision to suspend them was taken by party president YS Jagan Mohan Reddy in consultation with the disciplinary committee," YSRC general secretary Sajjala Ramakrishna Reddy said and alleged that each MLA was offered Rs 10 to Rs 20 crore to vote in favour of the TDP.

Sajjala said Jagan Mohan Reddy had been telling some legislators, who are not in a position to win the next elections as per surveys that they would not be given tickets to contest the 2024 elections. He, however, said Jagan had assured such MLAs of alternate posts.

"The four MLAs might have feared of their future and crossed the line. There is no question of allowing such indiscipline," Sajjala asserted.

Allurement allegation

YSRCP general secretary added that it was not the dissent and disappointment among the leaders that made them work against the party but Naidu's allurement. "We firmly believe that large amount of money changed hands," he said and added that the MLAs might have been lured either with money or seats to contest in the next elections. He said that the four MLAs were not available to seek clarification. "If it is disappointment or dissent, we can convince them. But, here the issue is money," he alleged.

BJD: No talk on Third Front at Mamata meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bhubaneswar

WITH speculation over the discussion between Odisha Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik and his West Bengal counterpart Mamata Banerjee on Thursday continuing, the BJD on Friday reiterated that the party was firmly committed to the principle of equidistance from both the BJP and Congress.

Senior BJD leader and state Industries Minister Pratap Deb also stated that there was no discussion on Third Front at the meeting or there has been any talk within the party regarding joining any front. "The president (Naveen Patnaik) has also not discussed anything with us in this regard," he said.

As Banerjee met former Karnataka chief minister and JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy at her Kolkata residence on Friday where the two leaders were reported to have discussed the way forward to fight and defeat BJP in 2024 elections, sources maintained that she may have broached the idea of a common platform to Naveen also.

Mamata's statement after Thursday's meeting in Bhubaneswar that something she said may not be supported by Naveen and something he said may not be liked by her, point towards some political differences between the two leaders, though both denied to have discussed in-depth political issues. Banerjee had met former Uttar Pradesh chief minister and Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav in Kolkata before meeting the Odisha chief minister.

The BJD on Friday maintained that the discussion between Naveen and Mamata was limited to ensuring how the federal structure of the nation will remain strong and permanent.

Kasarkod beach has a rare visitor: A guitarfish

SUBHASH CHANDRA N S
@ Kasarkod (Uttara Kannada)

THE Kasarkod beach seems to be springing surprises every now and then. This time, it has thrown up a guitarfish, a rare and tiny shark. The fish measures about one foot in length. "We found it lying on the beach here. I have not seen such a fish earlier," said Vinod S Sidlani, manager, Eco Beach, Kasarkod.

"It is one of the smallest sharks and is rarely found," informed Shivakumar Haragi, assistant professor, Department of Marine Biology, Karnataka University Dharwad.

"It has been been confirmed that it is found on the west coast and is a rare one," said another marine biologist, Prakash Mesta.

"The fish is a shovelnose shark, something of a mix of shark and stingray. It is a bottom feeder that dwells deep down the water," said Suraj Pujar, a researcher with the department of marine biology. He added that it's a shy fish and usually avoids being seen.

Kiran Vasudevamurthy, another researcher, said that the shark feeds on small fish, phytoplanktons and zooplanktons. "It produces special electric pulses to hunt its prey. It is a deep sea fish and occasionally comes to shallow waters," he said.

This fish has a flattened fore body with pectoral fins on either side of the head and gives birth to its young ones like the big sharks do. Several species of fish and jellyfish have washed ashore on the beach. This includes the rare blue jellyfish. This year, two olive ridley turtles have nested on the beach and the eggs have been protected by the beach authorities.

Kasarkod beach has been awarded Blue Flag certification, an internationally recognised eco-label that is accorded based on 33 criteria. Blue Flag beaches are considered to be the cleanest beaches in the world.

TSPSC paper leak: SIT continues searches

ENS @ Hyderabad

THE SIT probing the TSPSC paper leak conducted searches on the residences of those suspected to have illegally accessed the Group 1 preliminary question paper. The SIT conducted searches at Nawabpet MPDO office and the residence of Prashanth. Elsewhere, the SIT named Shankara Laxmi, the TSPSC confidential section officer, as one of 19 witnesses in the case. This was revealed in the supplementary 'remand case diary' filed in the court of XII Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Nampally.

The SIT also named the staff and management of a hotel where the conspiracy to steal the papers was hatched, as witnesses. Meanwhile, the police are analysing the CCTV footage collected from the hotel where the accused met several people just a day before the Assistant Engineers examination.

Tension prevailed at Osmania University's Arts College on Friday, as at least two students tried to immolate themselves in protest against the paper leak scandal.

It may be recalled that the SIT has so far arrested 12 people in the case and is investigating the involvement of over 100 more suspects who have scored over 100 marks in the Group 1 preliminary examination held on October 16, 2022.

DISTRESSED FARMERS KNOCK ON DELHI'S DOORS SEEKING A HELPING HAND

Excessive unseasonal rain in the third week of March in the major wheat-producing states, including Punjab, Haryana, Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan, has hit the farmers hard. In most of these states, the wheat crop was either ready for harvesting or was harvested and kept in the open for threshing. The rain has destroyed large parts of both. It has also adversely affected the other rabi crops such as mustard, black gram, etc. As per estimates, the country had received 246% more than the normal rainfall.

Farmers were earlier troubled by scanty winter rainfall. The winter rain and the moist air help grains gain size. The lack of sufficient winter rain and the early onset of hot spells have played havoc in the rabi season. What followed has been worse. The unseasonal rain with hailstorms and strong winds has flattened the crop. Reports show that the wheat now arriving in the market finds few takers due to its poor quality. Farmers are forced to sell their low-quality yield at a lower price than the minimum support price.

According to experts, India will see a shortfall of production like last year when the heat wave arrived early and affected wheat production. Scientists say that the inclement weather will impact the quality of wheat crops, if not quantity. However, agri-commodity analysts say it will impact both. The United States Department of Agriculture has predicted a 4% shortfall in wheat production in India. According to the Directorate of Economics and Statistics, 85% of India's wheat is produced by five states—UP (32.42%), MP (16.08%), Punjab (15.65%), Haryana (11.28%) and Rajasthan (10.08%). These states have been hit the hardest with the weather playing truant.

Even before the weather hit farmers starting mid-March, the Samyukta Kisan Morcha, an umbrella body of farmers' organisations from across the country, had announced its plan to stage a demonstration in Delhi to press the Union government to fulfil the assurances given in writing on December 9, 2021, and to take effective steps to mitigate the ever-increasing crisis faced by farmers. The government needs to take effective steps to rescue farmers. What is at stake here is not only their well-being but also the nation's food security and the stability of the price of food grain.

CRIMES AGAINST WOMEN: LAX KERALA MUST WAKE UP

Kerala offers a strange contradiction when it comes to women's empowerment. The state, which has always hogged the top slot in sex ratio and women's education, is now ironically a hotbed of crimes against women. If the number of crime cases against women registered is anything to go by, the state is fast becoming unsafe for them.

According to the State Crime Records Bureau, the atrocities against women were at an all-time high in 2022. A total of 18,943 cases were registered last year, including 5,354 molestation and 584 harassment cases. This upward trend continued this year, too, with 1,784 cases recorded in January alone. The number of Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) cases have also increased. In 2022, as many as 5,315 cases were registered for crimes against children. From 3,181 in 2018, POCSO cases went up to 4,586 in 2022. Though there could be some merit in the argument that the high number of cases registered indicates general empowerment and increased awareness about the law, the apathy of the authorities in handling the cases cannot be ignored.

The latest incident, which once again exposed the failure of the law enforcement system, was when a 49-year-old woman was assaulted in the state capital last week. Though the woman's daughter immediately alerted the police, the latter took their own sweet time to respond. The police insisted on the woman personally going to the police station to file the complaint. She could not do so as she was admitted to a hospital. The police registered a case only three days later after the top officers intervened following media reports. Though some civil police officers have been suspended, the police are still groping in the dark for the culprit.

The repeated lapses on the part of the police in handling such cases come at a time when women have started to speak up against abuse. Lapses on the part of the system will make it a losing battle for the women even before it has started. The government must see to it that the erring officials face legal action as stipulated by the law. It is time the government woke up to such gross apathy of the law enforcement system and took urgent measures to address the gaps. Otherwise, all the unique achievements the state has garnered on the women empowerment front will be pointless. And that is something the state government should never let happen.

CREEPING CRYPTO

Bengaluru reported frauds in cryptocurrency trading worth ₹70 crore last year. The big picture is that India has 110 million cryptocurrency investors, many falling prey to crypto sharks. It's challenging to stop crypto. Its backbone, blockchain, isn't a system easy to interpret. RBI agrees it's a ponzi scam surviving on people's greed for unnatural gains and cannot replace fiat currency for a few years. While promoting India's e-currency, the government must not delay deciding whether crypto is illegal or its trade needs a legal framework. Crypto investors wonder why they are heavily taxed when crypto's status is still in suspense.

Clearly, Imran's open attack on the all-powerful army is the red rag to the military-establishment bull

ARMY VERSUS IMRAN: BATTLING THE ENEMY WITHIN

NEENA GOPAL

Foreign policy analyst and author

SOUMYADIP SINHA

As Pakistan remains poised on the edge of a financial precipice with the International Monetary Fund (IMF) dragging its feet on the transfer of the last of the $1.1 billion tranche, the biggest challenge before Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif is not just pulling the economy back from the brink.

His government must tackle the far more potent threat posed by former cricket captain and prime minister Imran Khan, who has tapped into the people's anger against the military's "imposition" of a new set of political proteges, as he defies not just Sharif-led Pakistan Democratic Movement (PDM) coalition, but key power broker, the Army.

Less than a year ago, the former speedster with a growing cult following among Pakistan's biggest demographic, the under-30s, was the star beneficiary of the military's munificence. Today, he is the enemy within.

Three-time former prime minister Mian Nawaz Sharif who heads the PML(N), i.e., Pakistan Muslim League (Nawaz), is the only real counterweight to the iconic cricketer in the Punjab heartland. He remains in self-exile in London, waiting for corruption charges to be lifted, dispatching daughter Maryam Nawaz to lead the charge instead. To little avail.

The angry and the dispossessed are out on the streets with the latest standoff last Saturday, the ugliest so far. The shoot-out on the streets of Lahore and outside the Islamabad judicial complex do not bode well for a nuclear-armed Pakistan caught in a spiral of rising inflation and crippling cost of living and a rapid descent into anarchy.

With all eyes on Imran's Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf-led protest march in Lahore, tentatively scheduled for late Saturday night, both sides are playing for high stakes. The march is a well laid trap for a possible ban and arrest on terror charges if the Lahore rally turns violent, with Shehbaz' government tarring Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) for "taking up arms against the state".

Already charged for use of Gilgit-Baltistan and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa (KP) police and armed tribals who rained firebombs and stones from behind a wall of containers to prevent Islamabad police entry to his home where they found guns and bomb-making equipment, Imran's defense that the armed tribals were 'unknowns", "namaloom", planted, like the bombs, has cut no ice in court. The judiciary, seen as fiercely independent, bristles at accusations of marching to PML(N)'s tune.

But Imran, who survived an alleged assassination attempt in November 2022, is adept at playing the victim, airing fears of a staged shootout between his supporters and police personnel, predicting he will be caught in the crossfire and lose his life, as did Bhutto scion Murtaza Bhutto, accusing police of plans to infiltrate the ranks of his supporters when he's out, or en route to court.

And now, he has lost his trump card. The Election Commission of Pakistan postponed the April 30 Punjab assembly polls to October 8, while refusing to set dates for KP, the other state where the PTI was in power. Banking on a February Gallup Pakistan poll which gave him 61% of the urban vote and 31% to PML(N) and Bilawal Bhutto Zardari's Pakistan People's Party (PPP), Imran had hoped to force early polls by dissolving both assemblies, and cash in on a sympathy wave to bring him back to power.

With that option thwarted, the 70-year-old, still smarting from being ousted in a constitutional coup last April—the brainchild of his former mentor Gen. Qamar Javed Bajwa—is falling back on his hook of delivering a Quranic state, 'Riyasat-e-Madina', to grab the people's imagination.

His legion of supporters have glossed over his inept governance in office, gross mismanagement of the economy and his hubris in the alienation of mentor Saudi Arabia. His impolitic diatribe against Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman while flying to New York on a plane loaned by the Saudi leader, unaware that the conversation was being taped and relayed to Salman even as it happened, is a case in point. Similarly, a refusal to allow Washington's use of Pakistan airbases, revelling in the US' shambolic exit from Afghanistan as "Afghans breaking the shackles of slavery", going public with a cypher between a US official and Pakistan's ambassador to the US that urged his removal, did not go down well with then army chief Gen. Bajwa or US President Joe Biden.

By supplying US-backed Ukraine with munitions, drones and now fighter jets, the Sharifs have rebuilt ties with Washington.

But rattled by Imran's ability to bring hundreds out on the streets in an unprecedented challenge to the powers that be, the Sharif government has set in motion moves to disqualify him from participating in polls and holding office by tying him down in court cases while holding the threat of jail time over his head, not factoring in the consequences of street protests if Imran is indeed put behind bars.

Clearly, Imran's open attack on the all-powerful army, now led by the Sharifs' pick General Asim Munir, is the red rag to the military-establishment bull. The army is unnerved by the divided loyalties of junior officers in the ranks, said to be not averse to an Imran Khan-led dispensation over the power wielded by the entrenched elite.

With a hitherto unsullied reputation for playing by the book, Gen. Munir refuses to heed Imran's repeated summons for a face-to-face meet, saying as army chief he will only confer with the country's premier.

This was unlike the time when he held office and was managed—not always successfully—by Gen. Bajwa and the man who has grown into his chief adviser today, the canny former Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) chief Lt. Gen. (retd) Faiz Hameed. In fact, Gen. Munir was summarily dismissed from his post as Director General ISI in 2019 by Imran, a mere eight months after he was appointed, and replaced by Faiz, who orchestrated Nawaz Sharif's ouster from office with an army-backed people's movement that brought the then political non-entity to power in 2018.

Word is, Gen. Munir lost Imran's confidence when he warned him against his wife Bushra Bibi's attempt to sell official gifts and expensive watches—in the Toshakhana case—one of the main weapons in the Sharif armoury.

RECOGNISING OPPORTUNITIES FOR WOMEN-LED DEVELOPMENT

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE

Director General, Confederation of Indian Industry

India is a young society. Adolescents in India are a growing demographic, constituting the demographic dividend that is a great asset for India. This segment of youth has become much better educated than the previous generation of adolescents—a remarkable achievement—especially because it took place with gender parity.

These educated girls aspire, they have role models, they have a plan. This is clearly an opportunity. The question before us today is: what can we do to help them achieve their plan?

To achieve gender equality, the government has taken several transformative steps to accelerate change and empower women by focusing on areas such as healthcare, education, skilling and livelihood. Schemes such as 'Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao' promote the education of the girl child, while the National Skill Development Policy promotes inclusive skill development. There are several other government schemes and policies designed to empower women. Moreover, India's Gender Budget, which aims to reduce the gender gap, was increased this year. This augurs well for women and will play a critical role in building an inclusive India where 'Nari Shakti' will have opportunities to lead and shape a new world.

In 2013, recognising the tremendous untapped potential, CII launched the Indian Women Network with the vision of becoming the largest network for career women to discuss and overcome challenges and identify ways to impact and co-create ecosystems that enable women to fulfil their economic potential. Today, with 23 chapters across the country and 10 years into our existence, we have built programs around the needs and experiences of women, including the campus-to-career initiative for young students on the brink of entering the workforce, mentorship for mid-level women professionals, and the gender self-diagnostic tool for companies to self-assess how they are faring vis-à-vis inclusion and what they can do better.

With India as G20 president, the focus is on creating inclusive multi-stakeholder alliances to empower women. Prime Minister Narendra Modi's comment at the G20 Summit in Bali that "global development is not possible without women's participation" underscores India's commitment towards inclusive development.

With CII as the secretariat for B20, the business platform of G20, I am optimistic that we can strengthen gender equity by working with all stakeholders. At B20, India this year will add the industry perspective to strategic policies by the world's largest economies to shape a more equitable world. The dialogue will take place under the theme of RAISE—Responsible, Accelerated, Innovative, Sustainable and Equitable Businesses. The "E" which represents Equitable business practices, looks at fostering inclusive growth and thus follows two basic principles: (i) principle of 'opportunities for all' (ii) principle of 'inclusiveness' wherein the economic benefits of businesses are fairly distributed among all.

> When we look around, we see many women leading initiatives, whether they may be self-help groups at the rural level, or startups and independent small businesses

It is imperative that a roadmap is designed to help women achieve their full potential by capitalising on the opportunities that present themselves at all levels. If we look at the emerging economic trends, clear enablers of inclusion and enhanced participation of women seem to be emerging. These include:

a) New technologies and increasing digitisation are closing gender gaps in education and access to markets, and thus hold the potential to benefit women as workers, consumers and decision makers. Technology advancements, such as mobile money and digital platforms, may help women overcome barriers they face in accessing finance and markets, two of the biggest challenges for new business.

b) Linked to the increased digitisation is also the burgeoning startup culture which offers women tremendous opportunities to be entrepreneurs and job givers instead of job seekers. Accompanied by the rise of the service industry, this is a big opening for women to design work opportunities by keeping their skill sets and requirements at the centre.

c) The energy transition which we are witnessing requires an overhaul of the way our economy functions. This translates into new jobs with new skills, thereby providing an opportunity for industry to intentionally engage the new generation of aspirational women to lead us through a just energy transition.

d) Globalisation of the value chain is yet another trend that is throwing up a plethora of opportunities, allowing women-owned MSMEs to access foreign markets indirectly by supplying domestic exporters, helping to reduce the fixed costs of exporting.

A survey of over 700 working women conducted by CII revealed that 40% of the respondents aspired to "rise to the top of their companies". While women in the workforce are displaying new attitudes, even in the areas of education, especially higher education, a larger number of women in India today are opting for advanced learning at higher rates compared to before the pandemic. The gender gap in STEM subjects is narrowing, and an increasing number of women are opting to reskill and upskill themselves with various certification courses. When we look around, we see many women leading initiatives, whether they may be self-help groups at the rural level, or startups and independent small businesses. Not only are women tapping into existing opportunities but also creating new opportunities for themselves.

We have over 1.37 million elected Indian women representatives providing leadership in formulating and implementing gender-sensitive public policies at the community level. The serving president of India, Droupadi Murmu, is a role model for us. Women are leading in every sector, and I believe the narrative around women and leadership is changing. Let us orchestrate the opportunities that are presenting themselves, to create an economy that applies intentional design to move towards greater participation and inclusive growth for all.

Defamation case

Apropos of A sentence over a phrase: Surat hands out spotlight back to Rahul (Mar 24). Every individual has the right to speak or to express their views regardless of whether they are good or bad. Rahul's comment on Modi's surname was not bad in intention. Even Modi's government has been widely accused of using the defamation law to target and silence critics.

Aditya Kamble, Kalaburagi

Modi's surname

Apropos of the aptly titled and succinct edit A sentence over a phrase: Surat hands spotlight back to Rahul (Mar 24). The Surat district court has rightly upheld the identity of the PM as an individual and underscored the significance of a surname. At the same time, the court is also giving Rahul an opportunity to apologise for such a slur or challenge the order, by giving sufficient time.

P V Prakash, Mumbai

Defaming PM

Apropos of Rahul sentenced to two years in jail for Modi slur (Mar 24). The defamation case seems unnecessary as it clearly was a political comment made by Rahul against his rival. Something as silly as this should not be a reason for his MP position to be questioned.

Kushinara Dharmasen, Bengaluru

Exam leak

Apropos of Cannot play politics with exam leak (Mar 24). The editorial is a wake-up call for the TSPSC to get its house in order.The episode is a disaster for this organisation, whose reputation has to be restored as expeditiously as possible.

N Rama Rao, Gurugram

Telangana politics

The paper leakage issue is giving ample opportunities to all the political parties in Telangana to make allegations against each other. This is to catch the attention of the innocent students who have sacrificed money and time in preparing for exams. It is unfair, and these parties must realise that the issue is education and the future of students and not politics.

Curbing corruption

I really appreciate and support the columnist's arguments in Revisiting raids, corruption and an elephant in the system (Mar 24). Any anti-corruption move initiated by any government, be it state or Central, should be viewed from the angle of a taxpayer. When the Opposition comes to power let us witness the reverse. This cyclic phenomenon is the only hope for the common man to control the looting of taxes.

TWEETS OF THE DAY

Mamata Banerjee @MamataOfficial
In PM Modi's New India, Opposition leaders became the prime target of BJP! Today, we have witnessed a new low for our constitutional democracy.

Shashi Tharoor @ShashiTharoor
I'm stunned by this action and by its rapidity, within 24 hours of the court verdict and while an appeal was known to be in process.

Sitaram Yechury @SitaramYechury
It's condemnable that BJP is now using the criminal defamation route to target Opposition leaders and disqualify them as done with Rahul Gandhi.

United Oppn takes govt head on over Rahul's disqualification

Setting aside their political differences with the Grand Old Party, leaders of TMC, AAP and SP slam BJP and come out in support of the Congress leader

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi's conviction and the subsequent disqualification from Parliament seems to have given a fresh lease of life to Opposition unity as several parties, including TMC, AAP and SP rallied around the Congress leader.

The most unexpected was the support from TMC, which has been at loggerheads with the Congress. In a show of solidarity with Rahul, West Bengal CM and TMC chief Mamata Banerjee said that the country is witnessing a new low for constitutional democracy. "In PM Narendra Modi's new India, Opposition leaders have become the prime target of BJP! While BJP leaders with criminal antecedents are inducted into the cabinet. Opposition leaders are disqualified for their speeches. Today, we have witnessed a new low for our constitutional democracy," she said in a tweet.

AAP, a political adversary of Congress, also came out in support of Rahul. Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal said: "The country has to be saved from an arrogant dictator and illiterate person... Dismissing Rahul Gandhi ji from the membership of the Lok Sabha is a cowardly act. We respect the judiciary, but we do not agree with this judgment...People will have to stand up."

In a sign of thaw, SP leader Akhilesh Yadav said that the BJP is trying to divert attention from corruption by disqualifying Rahul. "Today the membership of the biggest Congress leader has gone. Many BJP leaders will lose their membership if action is taken against them. This has happened earlier with SP leaders also," he said.

Political analyst and former Congress leader Sanjay Jha said Rahul's disqualification will be a lifeline for the Opposition in the run-up to the 2024 elections. "Every Opposition party knows that they will face similar harassment, political intimidation, abuse of investigating agencies in the same way as Rahul Gandhi. Tomorrow it could be anybody," Jha told this newspaper.

TMC leader Derek O'Brien said that BJP is desperately silencing the voice of Opposition. "We know they will go to all kinds of lows, but this is the lowest of the lowest," he said.

TMC has been staying away from Opposition meetings and protests. Recently, Mamata and Yadav announced that they will keep an equal distance from Congress and BJP to fight BJP in the 2024 elections. TMC and Congress have locked horns in many states including Goa, Delhi, Tripura and Meghalaya.

PURNESH MODI: EX-MIN WHO FILED COMPLAINT AGAINST RAHUL

Purnesh Modi, a BJP MLA and a former Gujarat minister, has been hogging limelight after a Sural court found Rahul Gandhi guilty of criminal defamation. Modi, a three-time MLA from Surat West, belongs to the OBC (Other Backward Classes) community who filed complaint against Gandhi. Before starting as an apprentice at a local legal company, he had worked as a daily wage laborer for a brief period. He became a minister in 2021 after Bhupendra Patel reshuffled his cabinet. He held the portfolios of roads and buildings, transport, civil aviation, and tourism and pilgrimage. Nearly three months before the Gujarat Assembly elections in August 2022, Patel relieved Modi of the important road and infrastructure portfolio. Modi won Surat West in 2022 by a margin of more than one lakh votes. He, however, couldn't find a berth in the new cabinet.

Rahul thinks he is above govt, judiciary: Thakur

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

FOLLOWING the disqualification of Wayanad MP Rahul Gandhi from the Lok Sabha, Union Information and Broadcasting minister Anurag Thakur on Friday said the Congress leader always considered himself to be above Parliament, government, judicial system and the country. "Rahul Gandhi should see this well-planned purge against him inside the Congress...He himself said that it was unfortunate he is a MP. Today, he got freedom from his misfortune. Along with him, the people of Wayanad also got rid of him," said the minister in a press conference.

'Conspiracy in Congress'

Rahul must probe this conspiracy inside Congress to oust him. Who wants to get rid of him? Was there not a single man to give correct advice to him or was he intentionally misled?" Thakur said.

Referring to the defamation case in which the Congress MP was convicted on Thursday, Thakur added he had gone 'beyond the limits'. "He said 'All thieves are Modi'. His basic thinking behind all this was that he is above the law of the land and nothing can ever happen to him," Thakur said. "Rahul Gandhi ji must investigate this well-thought-out conspiracy created inside the Congress to oust him. Who in the Congress wants to get rid of Rahul Gandhi? There are big lawyers in Congress. Was there not a single man to give correct advice to him or was he intentionally misled?" he added.

Thakur said Rahul Gandhi had been indicted in seven different cases. "Apart from this, in many cases, he had to apologize for his lies and unrestrained rants. This proves that Rahul Gandhi is a habitual loose cannon. Rahul Gandhi ji insulted Modi ji not once but repeatedly by using abusive words. He went further and insulted an entire community (OBC)," Thakur said.

Rahul refused to say sorry to Surat court: Cong leader

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

SURAT Congress leaders and his lawyers have tried to persuade Rahul Gandhi to apologise before the court for his remark on Modi surname, but the Congress leader has flatly refused to do so, according to sources. They told Rahul that the court may let him free if he apologised, else his Parliament seat could be in jeopardy.

Hasmukh Desai, Surat City Congress president, who stood guarantee for Rahul's bail, told this newspaper: "When Rahul Gandhi was on his way to the court from the airport, senior lawyers tried to convince him that these are not serious crimes and that if he apologised to the court, there would be no punishment. But Rahul flatly refused to say sorry."

As his lawyers failed to convince Rahul, some leaders even spoke to him outside the court. "Later, when Rahul arrived at the court, senior Congress leaders tried to persuade him to apologise, saying that there is an entire government machinery out to defame him, and that there is an attempt to cancel his MP post as well," Desai said.

When Rahul was told that it is necessary for him to be in Parliament, he said that he had done nothing wrong, hence would not apologise. "I am prepared to accept the punishment imposed by the court," he told local Congress leaders.

How petition filed by late SC lawyer has triggered national debate

P RAMDAS @ Kochi

AFTER the Surat District Court's conviction of Rahul Gandhi and his subsequent disqualificartion by the Lok Sabha Secretariat as an MP has triggered a political storm, a Kerala connection has emerged in this case. Lily Thomas Vs Union of India is now the cynosure of all eyes. The petition filed by late advocate Lily Thomas and the Supreme Court's ruling on it are being widely debated across the country.

Lily Thomas challenged Section 8(4) of the Representation of the People Act that gave a convicted lawmaker the power to remain in office if an appeal was filed within three months of the conviction. The SC struck down Section 8(4) in 2013. Following the verdict, a legislator stands disqualified immediately when convicted for two or more years imprisonment. The intention of the petition was to remove criminal elements from politics by barring convicted lawmakers from contesting elections or holding any office, said SC advocate Saju Jakob.

Saju and Lily jointly ran a law firm, Lily Thomas and Saju Jakob Advocates and Solicitors, in New Delhi. It was at the age of 85 that she won a landmark ruling that made it impossible for members of Parliament and state legislative bodies who have been convicted of crimes or are in jail to run for election or hold an elected seat, said Saju, who was like a son to Lily. She filed many public interest litigations, including on the validity of the advocate-on-record examination, and matters relating to railway employees and the conversion to Islam for the purpose of a second marriage.

Lily, who hailed from Changanassery, grew up in Thiruvananthapuram. She joined the Madras High Court in 1955 and went on to complete her LLM in 1959. She later joined the SC, which then had just three women lawyers in active practice.

Saju, whose law office is adorned with the photographs of Lily, recalls that she had completely devoted her life to protecting the values of the Constitution. "She was concerned about persons with criminal antecedents becoming lawmakers. Some even contested from jail and were elected to law-making bodies. She wanted to end this and approached the Supreme Court," he said.

Qatar likely to frame individual charges against 8 Navy veterans

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

AFTER being in solitary confinement for over eight months in Doha, eight Indian naval veterans in Doha are likely to get charged individually under various sections of the Qatari law.

"After the rejection of the last bail plea on March 15 for the eighth time in a row, the veterans were allowed to file fresh petition on March 19. It was then that they were told that charges would be framed against them individually. Based on what the charges are, the eight naval veterans will be tried in Qatari courts," said a source close to the matter, adding that this has been a major setback as they were all hoping for an early repatriation of the officers back to India.

Panic-struck families of the veterans are clueless about what lies ahead. "Even though we get to meet our men-- those who aren't in Doha are allowed weekly phone calls-- we are severely impacted by what lies ahead.

We are hoping against hope that they are repatriated back home and not tried in courts there," lamented a family member of one of the veterans.

Some family members are also hoping that the Amir of Qatar grants a pardon during the ongoing month of Ramadan.

While the Qatari authorities have dealt with these eight naval veterans with civility, the uncertainty around their release has been a cause of concern.

The Indian government through its diplomatic channels has been in constant touch with their counterparts in Doha seeking early repatriation of the veterans.

These eight naval veterans who were working for Dahra Consultancies were picked up at midnight on August 30t by officials of Qatar's interior ministry.

These eight veterans are Capt Navtej Singh Gill, Captain Saurabh Vashisht, Commander Purenendu Tiwari, Capt Birendra Kumar Verma, Commander Sugunakar Pakala, Commander Sanjeev Gupta, Commander Amit Nagpal and Sailor Ragesh.

THE SAGA SO FAR

August 30 midnight: There was a knock on the door of naval officials working for a company called Dhara Consultancies for five years. Qatar's Interiorministry officials asked the veterans to accompany them for a training programme.

The officials never returned home and were kept in solitary confinement.

Even as their families remained worried, the first hearing in their bail plea was held a month later. Their bail pleas have been rejected eight times since then. The veterans got first consular access was given on October 3.

The CEO of the company, meanwhile, came down to Doha to get his officials out. He was also, however, was kept in solitary confinement for two months.

Subsequently, he was released on bail. Weekly meetings with families of the officials and home-cooked food was allowed until now. Once the charges are framed, things may well not be the same.

Chargesheet filed against Bishnoi, Goldy Brar by NIA

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Friday filed a chargesheet against dreaded gangsters Lawrence Bishnoi and Goldy Brar alongwith 12 others with alleged links with the proscribed Babbar Khalsa International (BKI) and several other pro-Khalistani terrorist outfits, in the second of the three terror-gangster nexus cases it is investigating.

According to NIA sources, Lawrence Bishnoi, in custody since 2015, has been operating his terror-crime syndicate from jails in different states, in collaboration with Canada-based Goldy Brar, an accused in the 2022 killing of Pradeep Kumar, a Dera Sacha Sauda follower.

During its investigation and raids regarding the case, NIA had seized a huge cache of illegal and sophisticated weapons and other incriminating material from 74 locations in Punjab, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan, Gujarat, Chandigarh and Delhi, an NIA spokesperson said. Around seven LOCs and 5 NBWs have so far been issued in the case by the NIA, which has also attached and seized 7 immovable properties under Section 25 of the UAPA and frozen 62 bank accounts.

The investigations further led the NIA to the hideouts set up across Haryana and Punjab, which were being used to harbour the gangsters and store weapons. All the 14 accused have been charged with criminal conspiracy to unleash a wave of terror and carry out targeted killings of well-known social and religious leaders, movie stars, singers and businessmen.

14 Oppn parties move SC against 'misuse' of central agencies

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday agreed to list on April 5 pleas by 14 opposition parties against the alleged misuse of the law by Central agencies to arrest political opponents. The pleas have been filed by the Congress, TMC, AAP, JMM, JDU, BRS, RID, SP, Uddhav faction-led Shiv Sena, NC, NCP, CPI, CPM and the DMK.

The plea in which the parties have urged the court to lay down guidelines for law-enforcing agencies & courts on remand, arrest, and bail was mentioned by senior advocate AM Singhvi before the bench of CJI DY Chandrachud, Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala.

Urging the bench to list the plea, Singhvi said that 95% of cases belong to political leaders. "Around 95% of cases are of opposition leaders. We're asking for pre-arrest and post-arrest guidelines," he said.

Acceding to the senior counsel's request, the CJI agreed to list them on April 5.

It has been argued in the plea that investigating agencies such as CBI and ED are being increasingly deployed in a targeted manner with a view to completely crushing political dissent and upend the fundamental premises of representative democracy.

Only 23 convictions under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 (PMLA) have been secured as of now, even as the number of cases registered by the ED under the PMLA have risen exponentially (from 209 in 2013-14 FY to 981 in 2020-21, and 1,180 in 2021-22), said the plea. The plea also says that 72 political leaders between 2004 and 2014 have been investigated by the CBI. It further states that 43 (under-60%) were from the Opposition.

"Now, this same figure has risen to over 95%. The same pattern is reflected in the ED's investigations as well, with the proportion of Opposition leaders from the total number of politicians investigated rising from 54% before 2014) to 95% (after 2014)," the plea states.

Seeking guidelines for arrest in any cognizable offence except the one involving serious bodily violence, the opposition parties have urged the court to lay down a 'triple test' which should be used by police officers/ ED officials and courts. In case the pleas are not satisfied, the parties have urged the court to lay down alternatives like interrogation for fixed hours or at most house arrest for meeting the demands of an investigation.

The plea also requested the court and probe agencies to follow the principle of "bail as rule and jail as an exception" in cases where non-violent offences are alleged. The bail can be denied only where the aforementioned triple-test is met, the plea stated.

No right to citizens to petition in Parliament

The Apex Court on Friday dismissed a plea seeking a direction to the Centre and others to take steps to create an appropriate system that empowers citizens to petition Parliament and seek initiation of deliberations on issues highlighted by them. A SC bench on Friday ruled that as per Section 10(a)(i) of the UAPA, a person cannot be punished merely because he was the member of such an unlawful association but "wherein an association is declared unlawful" by notification under provisions of the law. The court said the main objective of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act is to make powers available for dealing with activities directed against the integrity and sovereignty of India. The court's order came in a plea which was filed by Centre and Assam government seeking a review of SC's 2011 verdict.

TB will lose, India will win, says PM

Inaugurates 'One World TB Summit' in Varanasi, exudes confidence of disease eradication

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

PM Narendra Modi, Governor Anandiben Patel and CM Yogi Adityanath at the 'One World TB Summit' at Rudraksh Convention Centre in Varanasi on Friday | PTI

TUBERCULOSIS (TB) will lose and India will win, the world will win, said Prime Minister Narendra Modi exuding confidence that while the global target to end TB was 2030, India was working with commitment to eradicate it by 2025.

Inaugurating the 'One World TB Summit 2023' in Varanasi on Friday, the Prime Minister said 'new India' was known for achieving its goals and that TB eradication is a part of the pledge. The PM sought to strengthen the government's resolve by citing the success of its drive to end open defecation, Swachha Bharat campaign and a record ethanol production in the country.

The PM launched the TB Preventive Treatment (TPT), TB Free Panchayat Initiative, Family Centred Care Model for TB and India's Annual TB Report-2023 during the event. He also virtually laid the foundation stone for BSL Lab Metropolitan Public Health Surveillance Unit in Varanasi.

While addressing a gathering of health ministers and delegates from various countries at the World TB Summit, the PM made a special mention of India's global role in combating the disease. He said since2014, India has been working on a new model in the global fight against TB. The PM explained the techniques and tools being used in the country to defeat TB. He said peoples' participation, enhancement of nutrition, innovation in medication, the use of technological advancements and wellness campaigns like 'Khelo India' and Fit India or even practising Yoga, were the main tools used to combat the dreaded disease.

"We have ensured people's participation in the endeavour. We have called upon them to make 'Ni-kshay Mitras' to join the TB-free India campaign. After this campaign, about 10 lakh TB patients were adopted by the common citizens of the country. Even children in the age group of 10-12 years are taking this fight forward against TB as 'Ni-kshay Mitra'. Many children have broken their piggy banks to adopt TB patients and help them in combating the disease successfully.

This financial support of 'Nikshay Mitras' for TB patients has reached above ₹1,000 crore," said the PM.

Modi: UP sets new benchmark for development

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Lucknow

CREDITING UP CM Yogi Adityanath for pushing the state on growth trajectory, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said the state was setting new benchmarks in every field of development.

Dedicating development projects worth around ₹200 crore and laying the foundation of 28 projects worth around ₹1,592 crore in Varanasi on Friday, the PM praised Yogi for making a record of becoming the only UP CM to serve the state for the longest period of time.

"On March 25, Yogi ji will complete one year of his second innings in office. He has created the record of being the longest-serving Chief Minister of UP. Today, UP has come out of its old image of despair. As security is strengthened and conveniences increase, prosperity is bound to be there," said the PM.

Tripura Speaker: BJP wins as Motha abstains from voting

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

BJP'S Biswabandhu Sen was on Friday elected as the Speaker of the Tripura Assembly.

Sen, the four-time MLA, defeated Congress veteran Gopal Chandra Roy by a margin of 18 votes. Sen, who polled 32 votes as against 14 by Roy, was with the Congress before wearing saffron colours in 2017. The NDA has 33 MLAs – BJP 32 and Indigenous People's Front of Tripura 1 – in the 60-member House.

Roy was the joint candidate of the Opposition – Congress, CPI(M) and TIPRA Motha. However, Motha decided to abstain from voting at the last moment. The members of the party walked out of the House expressing displeasure over the sitting arrangements.

The development comes hours after its chief Pradyot Bikram Manikya Debbarma met with BJP biggie and Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma in New Delhi.

"In a follow-up to yesterday's conversation with the home minister (Amit Shah) regarding the appointment of an interlocutor, I met Shri @himantabiswa last evening and he will be briefing the Home Minister regarding the urgency of this matter. We are interested in an honourable constitutional solution to the problem of our indigenous people of Tripura and hope that this process starts as promised within the next few days," Debbarma tweeted.

The Congress said it was unfortunate that Motha abstained from voting.

Ajit Pawar goes silent on Fadnavis

In Maharashtra, the leader of the Opposition and senior NCP leader Ajit Pawar is known for his aggressive style. He is known as Dada. But when it comes to BJP, Ajit Pawar seems to avoid directly attacking to Devendra Fadnavis. This has again in display when infamous bookie Anil Jaysinghania's alleged connections with Maharashtra deputy chief minister Devendra Fadnavis' spouse Amruta Fadnavis came out. Ajit Pawar neither attacked nor demanded any fair and impartial inquiry in this case. The Opposition gave a pass to Fadnavis, citing it as a personal and family matter of Fadnavis.

Infighting mars Cong prospects in Maha

Congress is in disarray in state due to infighting. Prominent leaders have never come together and discussed expanding the party base. All go in different directions. Some leaders are waiting for a change of guards, while a few others want the present system to continue at the till the next elections. The Congress top leadership is also seem to be paying no attention. There is ground for the grand old party in the state, but its leaders are busy settling their personal score.

Kasabha defeat: Ripple effect on Fadnavis

After the abysmal defeat of BJP in Kasabha By-election and earlier defeat in MLC and Andheri East graceful exit, the position of Devendra Fadnavis may not not shaky, but it has come under doubt. There is talk in BJP that the paty should change its state leadership ahead of the key polls. Maharashtra has always given priority to Maratha and OBC leadership. So, the buzz in BJP is promoting Maratha leader Radhakrishna Vikhe Patil as head of governance, while Incumbent BJP president Chandrashekhar Bawankule should continue so that Maratha and OBC combo will deliver more than Brahamin OBC combo in future elections.

Mahatma only a matriculate, had no law degree, says J&K L-G

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

JAMMU and Kashmir Lt Governor Manoj Sinha has courted controversy by stating that the Father of the Nation Mahatma Gandhi did not possess any law degree and his only qualification was a high school diploma. "There is a misconception among educated people that Mahatma Gandhi had a law degree. Gandhi had no degree," Lt Governor Sinha said while delivering a keynote address for Dr Ram Manohar Lohia Memorial Lecture at ITM Gwalior on Thursday.

He said who will say Gandhi was not educated? "I don't think anyone can dare to say so. But do you know that he did not have a single University degree or qualification? There are many of us who think that Gandhi had a law degree. No, he didn't. His only qualification was a high school diploma.He qualified to practice law but did not have a law degree. He had no degree. Just look how educated he was. He became the father of the nation," he said.

"Let me make it clear that don't only indulge in formal connection with the degree and what you think is education. Only a degree is not education," he asserted.

The Vatican City's Ambassador is slated to grace the completion of 21 years of the Catholic Diocese Jhabua on Saturday.

Activists of the right-wing Hindu outfits, including the Vishwa Hindu Parishad, gave a call for Jhabua Bandh on Friday and demonstrated at the Jhabua bus stand.

While the activists of saffron outfits are protesting against the Archbishop's Saturday visit, alleging that the visit is aimed to unveil a renovated "illegal" church, the Catholic Diocese Jhabua spokesperson Father Rocky Shah claimed that the church is totally legal and the Vatican City's Ambassador isn't coming to unveil it, as prayers are being offered there since August 2022. "He (the Ambassador) is coming for the event to mark 21 years of Catholic Diocese Jhabua," Shah claimed.

'Protest to intensify if...'

A saffron outfit leader cautioned that if Saturday's event isn't cancelled and the Vatican City's ambassador goes ahead with the programme, the Hindu outfits will intensify their protest.

Campaigning long for the delisting of tribals who've converted to Christianity and Islam from the list of scheduled tribes and alleging rampant religious conversion of tribals, the Hindu outfits got a large part of the Jhabua town shut down on Friday.

Led by their leader Fauji Prem Singh Azad, the saffron outfits' activists submitted documentary evidence and a memorandum to district administration officials alleging that the renovated church (which was originally built in 1926) has been built sans permission of the MP government's relevant department and is indulgent in religious conversion.

The saffron outfit leader cautioned that if Saturday's event isn't cancelled and the Vatican City's Ambassador goes ahead with the program, then the Hindu outfits will intensify their protest.

Amritpal was ready with pvt militia, emblem & currency

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

The seized visuals from an aide of Amritpal show a currency note of Khalistan, arms, WhatsApp numbers and armed men of Anandpur Khalsa Fauj

SOME of the incriminating visuals in videos and the mobile phone seized by the police from Tajinder Singh Gill alias Gorkha Baba, the 'bodyguard' of Amritpal Singh, include the state emblem of the so-called Khalistan, the design of its 'flag', logo and emblems of the areas within the proposed state, 10-dollar Khalistan currency bills and a hologram of the militant outfit Anandpur Khalsa Fauj (AKS).

These visuals also show AKS members doing firing practice and martial arts training at a makeshift firing range near a river in Jallupur Kheda, the native village of Amritpal Singh.

Talking to the media, SSP of Khanna, Amneet Kondal, said, "The Khalistan flag had some Urdu words written on it."

"Videos of members showing their expertise in assembling, disassembling and cleaning weapons have been recovered, besides a driving licence photo of a Pakistani national," said Kondal. She said Gill was a part of the close protection team entrusted with the security of Amritpal. While Harsimrat Singh Hundal alias Labh Singh alias Tiger was responsible for supervising Amritpal's security and the members of the AKF were paid salaries. "He took care of the weapons and assigned them on a day-to-day basis to members of the close protection team," she said.

Sources pointed out that during the investigation it has come to light that all members of AKF were assigned belt numbers like AKF 3, AKF 56 and AKF 47 — perhaps based on their seniority or proximity to Amritpal. Also two WhatsApp groups 'AKF' and 'Amritpal Tiger Force' were created.

The police said two months back, another close aide Gurbhej Singh alias Bheja arranged 10 bullet-proof jackets with AKF inscribed on them. He also gave firearms training to newly inducted members of the group at the makeshift firing range near a river in Jallupur Kheda, the native village Amritpal.

"All weapons and bullet-proof jackets had the AKF hologram imprinted on them. Weapons had a long-range telescope fixed on them," said the SP.

It is learnt that the members of AKF were youngsters who came to the de-addiction centres run by Waris Punjab De.

'Dry' Bihar grossly under-reported hooch deaths in Saran, says NHRC

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

THE National Human Rights Commission (NHRC) has claimed that 77 people lost their lives in the hooch tragedy in Bihar's Saran district against the state government's claim that only 42 people had died. The incident took place in December last year creating a political storm not only in 'dry' Bihar but also across the country.

In an 18-page report issued on Thursday, the NHRC claimed that the district administration had cremated the bodies of 33 people without any post-mortem. The hooch tragedy had taken place in Gopalbari, Kharauni Lalpur, Bahrauli Masrakh under Madhaura police station in December last year. The majority of the deceased were labourers, farmers, rickshaw pullers, drivers, tea sellers, vendors and unemployed people according to the NHRC, while 75 per cent of victims were from Backward Castes. It said that it was the responsibility of the district administration to pay the ex-gratia of ₹4 lakh to family members of each deceased.

A 10-member NHRC team visited the affected area from December 21 to 23 last year and interacted with the family members of the hooch tragedy victims. The NHRC visited the affected areas after BJP MP from Saran and former union minister Rajiv Pratap Rudy had raised the issue in Lok Sabha and demanded that a central team should be sent to the affected areas.

The NHRC also recommended compensation to the affected people as the majority of the victims were breadwinners of their families. The NHRC claimed that prohibition could not be enforced in the state as spurious and illegal liquor was still being sold in the state. It also quoted a comment by Patna High Court in this regard.

The NHRC also accused the then district magistrate and superintendent of police of not discharging their duties. The NHRC team had also alleged that district administration and police did not provide assistance to it during the investigation.

Meanwhile, the state prohibition and excise department continued to stick to its claim that 77 people had died due to the hooch tragedy in Saran district and contended that only 42 people had lost their lives. The department also objected to the NHRC's claim that the state government could not enforce prohibition completely.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand Civil Aviation Development Authority (UCADA) has allotted six routes for the Kedarnath helicopter service. Tenders for the service from Guptkashi to Kedarnath were opened on Thursday, while tendering will be done again for three routes.

The helicopter service is operated from Guptkashi, Sirsi and Phata to Kedarnath.

The state government is gearing up for the much-awaited Char Dham Yatra, which is scheduled to begin in April. Around three lakh pilgrims have already registered for the yatra at Kedarnath Dham, Badrinath Dham, Yamunotri Dham and Gangotri Dham.

"The temple committee is working on a war-footing with cooperation from the administration to make the yatra smooth and accessible for the pilgrims," Badri Kedar Temple Committee CEO Yogendra Singh told this newspaper, adding, "Drones will be used to provide emergency medicines in high altitude areas of travel."

NSO flags obesity among women in hill areas of HP, U'khand & J&K

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun

THE LEVEL OF OBESITY

State	Male		Female
	2015-16	2019-21	2015-16	2019-21
Uttarakhand	17.7	27.1	20.4	29.8
Himachal	22.0	30.6	23.2	30.4
J&K	20.5	31.7	29.3	29.4

In per cent

WOMEN are becoming obese in hilly areas of Himachal, Uttarakhand and Jammu and Kashmir. In Himachal, more women are obese than Uttarakhand and Jammu and Kashmir. This has been revealed in the Women and Men India report of the National Statistical Office (NSO).

According to the data released by NSO, "Obesity is increasing in both men and women in Uttarakhand. In 2015-16, 17.7% of men in Uttarakhand were obese, which increased to 27.1% in 2019-21. In the state, 20.4% of women were obese in 2015-16, while 29.8% women are obese in 2019-21."

There is a general perception that due to the hard work done in the hilly areas, the residents weigh less than the people in the plains, but the scenario has changed in the last few years.

The recently released report also revealed that women in the northeastern states are more tobacco lovers than in Uttarakhand, Jammu and Kashmir and Himachal. The report shows that the disease of obesity is increasing in people year after year.

The report gives data about obesity and tobacco consumption among women compared to men. These data have been collected from the National Family Health Survey of 2015-16 and 2019-20.

As per the data, men and women in Uttarakhand are more obese than in Uttar Pradesh. According to the report, in the National Family Health Survey-4 conducted in 2015-16, 12.5% of men and 16.5% of women in UP were obese. In Uttarakhand, 17.7% of men and 20.4% of women were obese during this period. In the survey of 2019-20, obesity was found in 18.5% of men and 21.4% of women in UP. Obesity among Uttarakhandis gained momentum during the same period, rising to 27.1% of men and 29.8% of women.

In the Himalayan states, women in the northeastern states are more addicted to tobacco consumption. The report shows that 4.6% of women in northeast use tobacco as compared to 33.7%of men in Uttarakhand. 1.7% women consume tobacco as compared to 32.3% men in Himachal and 1.7% women as compared to 38.3% men in Jammu and Kashmir.

Physiotherapist Dr Priya Ahuja told this newspaper that obesity is not really a disease. It is possible to solve this with regular exercise and yoga. Sadly, obesity has gripped the new generation due to dietary and lifestyle changes, she said.

FINANCE BILL 2023

Tax advantage on debt MF to go, bank FDs may gain

Tax benefit was biggest reason for investors to choose debt funds

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

DEBT mutual funds are set to lose tax advantage as the government has proposed to treat capital gains arising from debt mutual funds as short-term capital gains. The move will bring debt funds at par with bank fixed deposits in terms of taxation as these funds will now be taxed at an individual's relevant tax slab. Tax advantage was one of the biggest reasons for investors to choose debt funds over fixed deposits.

Bank FDs will be major beneficiaries as both debt funds and bank FDs will be subject to same taxability on maturity. The Asset Under Management of debt funds stood at ₹13 lakh crore as of February 2023

As per the amendment in the Finance Bill 2023, any income from mutual funds in which less than 35% of holding is in Indian equities (mainly debt mutual funds), if investment is done after 1 April 2023, will be classified as short-term capital asset irrespective of period of holding. Currently, debt fund investors pay income tax on capital gains as per their income tax slab for a holding period of three years and after that they are taxed at the rate of 20% with indexation benefits or 10% without indexation.

Apart from debt funds, the proposed changes will also impact international funds and gold funds. "This move may have a negative impact on all debt funds, particularly in the retail category, as ultra-high net worth and high net worth individuals may choose to invest in safe havens like bank fixed deposits. This will also affect gold funds and international funds," said Manish P Hingar, Founder at Fintoo. "We may see a shift from long-term debt funds to equity funds, and money may be directed towards sovereign gold bonds, bank fixed deposits, and non-convertible debentures in the debt category.

As a result, bank fixed deposits will become more attractive as both debt funds and bank fixed deposits will be subject to the same taxability of maturity proceeds," he added.

"Last 1-2 years, MF have seen outflows from debt schemes, in spite of tax benefit. The only segment that saw inflows was the target maturity funds that were passively holding Gsecs, mimicking FDs but with tax benefits. Investors may be reluctant to redeem even after completion of 3 years now as incremental income from these investments may remain tax efficient," Sandeep Bagla, CEO Trust Mutual Funds told TNIE.

OTHER KEY CHANGES

Relief for taxpayers with marginally higher income than ₹7 lakh: As per current provisions, no tax is charged up to ₹7 lakh. Amendment in finance bill says the tax one pays should not be more than the income that exceeds ₹7 lakh

TCS on money remitted to GIFT City: Tax is collected at source on money remitted out of India under liberalised remittance scheme (LRS). But when money is remitted by resident to Gift City, there is no TCS. To bring parity in treatment, it is proposed that TCS will apply to all LRS even if within India

Relief for InvITs/ REITs unit holders: Income received by REIT/InvITs unit holders in the form of 'repayment of debt' will be taxed after adjusting cost of acquisition

ROYALTY

Tax on royalty, technical fees to non-resident firms hiked

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE government has hiked the tax on royalty and fees from technical services earned by non-resident companies from 10% to 20%.

The hike in tax on royalty was one of the amendments proposed in 'The Finance Bill, 2023' which was tabled in the lower house by the Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Friday. The Finance Bill, 2023, which contains various proposals related to taxation and government spending, was passed with several amendments and 20 more Sections have been added to the Bill.

"In a surprise move the Government has increased the withholding tax rate on royalties and fees for technical services paid to non-residents from 10% to 20% under India's domestic tax law. Tax treaty benefits will become more critical now to avail a reduced withholding tax rate," said Gouri Puri, Partner, Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas & Co. "Foreign entities will need to evaluate their commercial substance to be able to claim such treaty benefits. This may also increase the cost of import of technology in cases where Indian companies are grossing up withholding taxes and treaty benefits are not available," Puri added. Royalty is any payment made where the original property's rights are retained by the owner and the right to use is licensed out to the user.

"This increase in rate will lead to a higher rate of tax of withholding tax obligations on payments to be made to non-residents unless there is a tax treat benefit which reduces such rate," said Saurrav Sood-Practice Leader International Taxation at SW India.

In a typical example of payments made to US companies, the rate of withholding tax on royalty and fees for technical services under the tax treaty was 15%, however, Indian companies while making such payments used to take benefit of a lower rate as per the domestic tax act, said Sood.

ASIANOMICS

GETS $2BN DEPOSIT FROM CHINA FOR IMF BAILOUT

Cash-strapped Pakistan has received a rollover deposits of $2 billion for a period of one year from its all-weather ally China to for much-required bailout from the IMF. The country is facing acute financial crunch. The rollover is not a loan but a financial deposit to be kept at Pakistan's central bank for a period of one year, which is one of the requirements of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in meeting its external financing needs, The News International reported. Pakistan is making effort to increase its forex reserves, estimated to be at $4.8 billion after China refinanced $500 million last week. Efforts to secure a loan from the IMF have been unsuccessful so far.

SINGAPORE

FACTORY OUTPUT FALLS 8.9% IN FEB

Factory production in Singapore declined for a fifth straight month in February, according to data released by the Economic Development Board on Friday. Factory output fell 8.9% year-on-year (YoY) in February, after falling a downwardly revised 3.1% in January. Contraction was worse than the 1.8% fall YoY expected by analysts in a Bloomberg poll. However, excluding the volatile biomedical manufacturing segment, output tumbled 4.9% in the said month. The city-state's industrial output weakness is in line with the steep decline in real non-oil domestic exports.

ASIA

ASIAN SHARES FALL ON BANKING TURMOIL, GLOBAL CUES

Asian shares tumbled on Friday as worries over turmoil in the banking sector and recession risks overshadowed gains on Wall Street. Tokyo's Nikkei 225 index declined 0.1% to 27,385.25 and the Kospi in Seoul gave up 0.4% to 2,414.96. Hong Kong's Hang Seng slipped 0.8% to 19,885.45 and the Shanghai Composite index edged 0.1% lower, to 3,265.55. Australia's S and P/ASX 200 shed 0.2 per cent to 6,955.20. However, stocks in Bangkok, Mumbai and Taiwan rose. Investors were worried that that more banks might suffer a debilitating exodus of customers following the second- and third-largest US bank failures in history. The turmoil is clouding the outlook for the Federal Reserve's decision on interest rate hike.

Shares fall for 2nd straight session, Sensex sheds 398 pts

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

INDIAN shares fell for the second straight session as investors turned jittery after the government hiked securities transaction tax (STT) on futures and options contracts while concerns about global banking crisis weighed on investors' sentiments.

In a volatile trade, the 30-share BSE Sensex declined 398.18 points or 0.69%to finish at 57,527.10, with 24 of its constituents posting losses. During the day, the index witnessed a high of 58,066.40 and a low of 57,422.98.

The broader NSE Nifty fell 131.85 points or 0.77%to slip below the psychological level of 17,000. The index settled at 16,945.05, with 41 of its scrips ending in the red.

"Cues from both the global and domestic markets were subdued. The asset management industry was hit hard by tax changes and the elimination of the indexation benefit of debt mutual funds," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services.

"The volatility was fuelled by weak European markets, which was driven by banking stocks as CDS spread increased. Although all major sectors traded in the red, selling in the IT sector was limited despite warnings of muted growth," he added.

Weakness in European markets fuels volatility

Volatility was fuelled by weak European markets, driven by banking stocks as CDS spread increased. Though all major sectors traded in the red, selling in IT sector was limited despite warnings of muted growth, said Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services

On a weekly basis, the BSE benchmark fell 462.8 points or 0.79%, while the Nifty slipped 155 points or 0.9%.

Bajaj Finserv was the biggest loser among the Sensex constituents, sliding 3.81 per cent, followed by Bajaj Finance, Tata Steel, RIL, HCL Tech, SBI, Larsen & Toubro and Mahindra & Mahindra, Axis Bank and Titan.

Falling for the second day in a row, index major Reliance Industries witnessed an intense sell-off and declined 1.96%. Kotak Mahindra Bank, Infosys, Tech Mahindra, Power Grid, Asian Paints and Wipro were the gainers.

Vedanta deducts $91 mn from govt profit from oil, gas fields

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

VEDANTA LTD has withheld about $91 million from the share of profit due to government from its oil and gas fields, to make up for the additional tax outgo due to widfall gains tax levied by the government on exports of petroleum products.

As per a PTI report, Vedanta on January 31 and on February 20 informed petroleum and natural gas ministry that it has deducted $85.35 million for SAED (Special Additional Excise Duty) paid on its prolific Rajasthan block, RJ-ON-90/1, and another $5.50 million for block CB-OS/2 in Cambay basin. This was being done with a view to restore economic benefits as mentioned in the signed contracts under which it operates. The ministry, in a February 22 letter called the deduction as "wrongful" and asked the firm to pay the short paid profit along with interest within 7 days. Vedanta has not complied with the direction. The government first imposed windfall profit tax on July 1, 2022, joining a growing number of nations that tax super normal profits of energy firms.

Tax on Futures, Options trades to increase by 25%

Higher taxes on F&O trading

25%: Increase in Securities Transaction Tax on sale of options

0.062%: New STT on sale of options from April 1

₹6,200: Tax payable for every `1 crore turnover from April 1

0.05%: Current STT on sale of options

₹5,000: Tax payable currently for every `1 crore turnover

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

GOVERNMENT'S unexpected decision to hike Securities Transaction Tax (STT) by 25% on Futures and Options trading not only shocked the traders and brokers but also created confusion in the market.

The Finance Bill 2023 passed in Lok Sabha on Friday stated that the STT on selling options has been raised from 0.017% to 0.021%. But, it left traders confused as they were already being taxed at 0.05% since 2016 and the new tax rate of 0.021% actually meant reduction in STT.

Realising mistake, finance ministry later in the day admitted that there was a typographical error and clarified that STT on selling options has been raised to 0.062% from 0.05%. This means option traders will now have to pay ₹6,200 for every ₹1 crore turnover compared to ₹5,000 being paid currently, reflecting a rise of 25%. "It appears that the amendment is not intentional but an inadvertent mistake and the same will be revisited. The rate intended was 0.0625 as against present rate of 0.05. The new rate would have been ₹6,250 per ₹1 crore," clarified the ministry It has also raised STT on sale of futures from 0.01% to 0.0125%. This means traders will have to pay ₹1,250 on ₹1 crore of turnover against the earlier rate of ₹1,000 on the sale of futures contracts.

"STT hike will impact intraday options writers more owing to the increased cost. The hike will impact the volumes churned by high-frequency traders (HFT)," said Arvinder Singh Nanda, Senior Vice President, Master Capital Services. "Over 90% of the volume in the Indian market originates from Scalpers, arbitrage houses and HFT firms. Rise in STT on F&O trading is going to further dent morale of high-frequency F&O traders that will in turn have a negative impact on F&O trade volume, thereby increasing the spread for retail investors," he said.

Govt hikes DA by 4% from 38% to 42%; extends Ujjwala subsidy by 1 yr

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet, chaired by the Prime Minister, on Friday increased dearness allowance (DA) and dearness relief (DR) of central governments employees and pensioners by 4% to 42%, from existing 38%.

Effective from January 1, 2023, the combined impact on the exchequer on account of hike in both DA and DR would be ₹12,815.60 crore per annum. This will benefit about 47.58 lakh central governments employees and 69.76 lakh pensioners, Union minister Anurag Thakur said announcing the Cabinet decision.

This increase is in accordance with the accepted formula that is based on the recommendations of the 7th Central Pay Commission, he added.

Also the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs approved a subsidy of ₹200 per 14.2 kg cylinder for up to 12 refills a year for the beneficiaries of Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana (PMUY). As of March 1, 2023, there are 9.59 crore PMUY beneficiaries. Total expenditure will be ₹6,100 crore for FY23 and ₹7,680 crore for FY24. The subsidy is credited directly to the bank accounts of the eligible beneficiaries.

Public sector oil marketing companies Indian Oil Corporation (IOCL), Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd. (BPCL) and Hindustan Petroleum Corporation (HPCL) have already been providing this subsidy since May 22, 2022.

To make LPG a clean cooking fuel, available to the rural and deprived poor households, the government launched Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana in May 2016, to provide deposit free gas connections to adult women of poor households. Also, the Cabinet has given its approval for the Minimum Support Price (MSP) for raw jute for 2023-24 season. The approval is based on recommendations of the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices (CACP).

No respite for start-ups from Angel Tax in Bill

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THOUGH various stakeholders have been suggesting to exclude investments from foreign companies in start-ups from the angel tax regime, the Finance Bill 2023, which was passed with major amendments on Friday, states that there is no change in the original proposal to angel tax and that it will come into effect from 1 April 2024.

The finance ministry's background note said that these changes will be for the assessment year 2024-25 and for FY 2023-24.

However, all concerns raised by stakeholders in the implementation of this proposal would be addressed, the finance ministry said.

"The draft rules related to valuation shall be shared with the stakeholders for their inputs in next month itself, viz April. Exclusions, as already provided to domestic Venture Capital Funds etc, shall also be considered for similar overseas entities," it said. Venture capitalists have been saying that this will negatively impact funding for start-ups. The amendment in the Finance Bill, 2023, means there is no exemption for overseas investors and they need to pay tax on deals. Manish Khanna, co-founder at Unlisted Assets, said for start-ups in the early to growth stages, where there is a greater difference between the fair market value and the price of the allotted share, the impact is probably going to be more severe. "As start-ups obtain the majority of their funding from foreign investors, this action is likely to have an effect on them," he said.

Saurrav Sood Practice Leader - International Tax & Transfer Pricing at SW India said, "The Finance Bill 2023 has received presidential assent, and with it comes the dashing of the hope of angel investors who were expecting a sigh of relief. Under this change, the consideration received by a company on the issue of shares to non-resident shareholders above the fair market value will now be taxable in the hands of the recipient as other income."

TDS on online gaming from April 1

According to the Finance Bill 2023 amendment, TDS on online gaming apps will be effective from April 1, 2023, instead of July 1, 2023. In the Budget, it was announced that TDS will come into effect from July 1, 2023, for FY24. As per the proposed Bill, the government has tightened framework for TDS by removing the threshold limit of `10,000 to regulate the flow of money spent and winning in the online gaming sector. ENS

5 Nykaa execs quit, months after CFO's exit

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FIVE executives have resigned from the beauty ecommerce platform Nykaa. This comes months after its Chief Financial Officer (CFO) Arvind Agarwal resigned to pursue other opportunities in the digital economy and start-up space.

Those who quit include chief commercial operations officer Manoj Gandhi, SuperStore CEO Vikas Gupta, chief business officer of fashion division Gopal Asthana. Business head Shuchi Pandya and finance head Lalit Pruthi have resigned. Pruthi has joined as CFO at Univo Education.

A Nykaa spokesperson said, "Voluntary and involuntary exits are expected in a fast-paced, growth-focused, consumer tech organisation with over 3,000 on-roll employees, like Nykaa."

"Over the years, Nykaa has acted as an incubator to bring together and support some of the most promising talent India has to offer. We see some of these mid-level exits as part of the standard annual appraisal and transition process, wherein, people exit due to performance or to pursue other opportunities. Nykaa values contributions." These resignations come at a time when Nykaa's stock prices are falling, and rivals Tata and Reliance have been showing interest in the beauty and personal care market.

FINANCE BILL PASSED WITH 45 AMENDMENTS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A day after passing the expenditure budget for 2023-24 without debate, the Lok Sabha on Friday passed the Finance Bill, too, without any discussion amid Opposition uproar demanding a JPC probe into allegations against industrialist Gautam Adani.

The Finance Bill, which gives effect to the tax proposals in the Budget, was passed with 45 changes. One of the key changes is the removal of the tax benefits on long-term investment in debt mutual funds (MFs with over 35% allocation to debt securities). Now, gains from such funds, irrespective of the holding period, would be taxed at slab rates. Long-term capital gains from debt funds would cease to get indexation benefit.

"An arbitrage is being created right now where interest income from debt mutual funds is not distributed and converted into long-term capital gains of 20% (with indexation). In some cases, it comes to less than 10% due to indexation. Thus, many taxpayers are able to reduce their tax liability through this arbitrage. This is sought to be addressed," the finance ministry said. In another setback to investors' community, the amended Finance Bill has increased the securities transaction tax by 25% on both options and futures trades.

The Bill brought relief to tax payers with income marginally higher than ₹7 lakh with an amendment clarifying that they won't be unfairly taxed.

There is no tax for income up to ₹7 lakh under the new tax regime but tax kicks in the moment one breaches that threshold. In such cases, the net payable tax can't be more than the amount by which ₹7 lakh is overshot. In other words, if a person's income is ₹7,00,100, the tax can't be above ₹100.

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said she will set up a panel led by Finance Secretary TV Somanathan to look into pension issue while maintaining fiscal prudence.

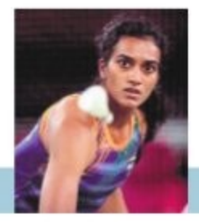
Holder Sindhu exits Swiss Open



PV Sindhu failed to defend her Swiss Open Super 300 title as she was shocked 15-21, 21-12, 18-21 by unseeded Putri Kusuma Wardani of Indonesia in the second round. Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty, however, reached the quarterfinals with a 12-21, 21-17, 28-26 win over Taiwanese pair of Fang-Chih Lee and Fang-Jen Lee.

IN SIGHT OF GLORY

Four Indians are just one hit away from the top prize in the ongoing IBA Women's World Championships in New Delhi. The finals will be held on Saturday and Sunday. Here's a glance at the Indians who'll be fighting for the big prize...

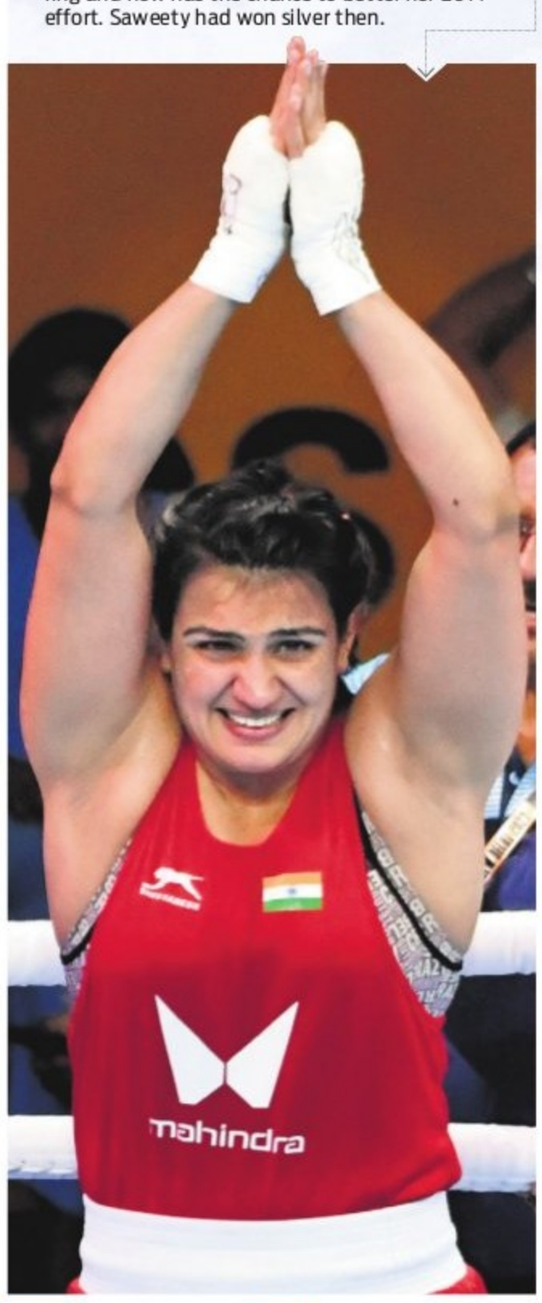
SATURDAY SPECIAL

48KG Nitu Ghanghas vs Lutsaikhan Altantsetseg (MGL)

Nitu has been a real dynamite in this championship, making short work of her first three opponents. She has added some aggression to her game, something that has helped her control the tempo of the bouts. In the semifinals, she showed that she has come a long way by overcoming an opponent who had beaten her last summer.

81KG Saweety Boora vs Wang Lina (CHN)

Saweety is certainly playing with more confidence in recent times. She has all the experience but could never seal the 75kg weight category for herself. Back in the 81kg category, she seems to have found her range inside the ring and now has the chance to better her 2014 effort. Saweety had won silver then.



5 In the 12 editions of the Women's World Championships, only five Indians have won gold.

4 India and China will have four boxers each fighting for gold, the most in this year's competition. A total of 13 countries will be part of the final.

Finals will start from 6pm @ Sony Pictures Network & Doordarshan

SUPER SUNDAY

50KG Nikhat Zareen vs Nguyen Thi Tam (VIE)

Despite starting from the bottom, which has meant a gruelling schedule, Nikhat has been a class act. She was outstanding on Thursday against a certified winner in the semifinals. The way she has managed her bouts is telling. Her ability to dictate terms inside the ring says a lot about how far she has come over the last year or so. She will be up against Nguyen, who has been a revelation. The Asian champ is the first Vietnamese to reach the final in the history of the competition.

75KG Lovlina Borgohain vs Caitlin Parker (AUS)

Not so long ago, Lovlina was staring at uncertainty. She had failed in the last Worlds in Istanbul and the Commonwealth Games (she had competed in light middleweight category). However, the change in weight category — 69kg to 75kg (middleweight) — is turning out to be fruitful. This was supposed to be her biggest test and she has responded with a big performance. Having bettered her previous efforts in the event (two bronze in 2018, 2019), the Tokyo Olympic bronze medallist now has the chance to claim the top prize.

HAPPY HOME RUN

The Indians have already improved on last edition's performance. In the 2022 edition, the women's team had returned with one gold and two bronze medals. However, it should be noted that countries like the USA and Ireland, who usually challenge for medals, are not part of this edition.

LOOKING BACK

The last time India hosted this event, MC Mary Kom had won an unprecedented sixth gold medal in the competition. Apart from that, India had won one silver and two bronze (Lovlina had fetched one bronze).

MILESTONE?

Nikhat & Co have a chance to emulate the boxers from the 2006 edition. India had topped the table thanks to Mary Kom, L Sarita Devi, Jenny RL and Lekha KC (four gold medals then). It has to be noted that bouts were fought in 13 weight categories then (one more than the present system).

Saweety looks to display gold mettle

Having confirmed her second World C'ships medal, Haryana's pugilist hoping to sign off with top finish

ANMOL GURUNG @ New Delhi

IN a sport that throws gruelling challenges, Saweety Boora has survived at the elite level of women's boxing for close to a decade now. A senior member of the current team, the 30-year-old has endured numerous battles over the last 10 years or so. Despite being around for long, she has always tended to be in the background due to various reasons. Other established boxers have outshone her and the fact that she has blown hot and cold (over the said period) has also not helped her case.

In her very first World Championships just over eight years ago, Saweety had shown her aptitude for the sport by clinching a silver medal to help salvage India's campaign in Jeju City, Korea. The following year, she repeated the feat in the Asian Championships. Any athlete would have taken that start willingly. The Haryana boxer could not have validated her talent in a better fashion then. However, the rigours of training and competitions seemed to be testing her, both physically and mentally. She was unable to find that level of consistency (that all athletes across sports aspire for) which could have possibly elevated her to the foreground.

Despite all that, she maintained faith in her craft. She knew her chance would arrive sooner or later. With experience over the years, she added layers to her game and mind had also naturally evolved. She shifted to the 81kg category from the 75kg category late last year (in a way she was forced to as the more-renowned Lovlina Borgohain stepped up). But that has worked in her favour. That was a tried and tested category where she had returned with the aforementioned medals. She's now operating with a free mind. "I have learnt to not take pressure and that is working for me. I'm playing with a free mind," Saweety, who's taking part in the marquee event for the sixth time (2014, 2016, 2018-19, 2022 and 2023), said.

"If I take pressure, then things won't go well. I have done my homework, I knew I could do well and I did just that." That mantra is proving to be beneficial. In the 2022 Asian Championships, she was one of the gold medallists. In the ongoing IBA Women's World Championships in New Delhi, she is now just one win away from bettering her Jeju City feat.

"I feel confident fighting in this weight category. I feel healthy and that is reflecting on my performance. I feel comfortable, strong and I'm really hoping to win the gold medal this time," Saweety, who has taken part in the middleweight category (75kg) thrice (including 2022) in the event, assessed. China's Wang Lina will have aspirations of her own. She is familiar with the venue here having muscled to victory in the 2018 edition. Saweety has never crossed paths so she will sit with the coaches to arrive at a plan. "I have never met her. So, I'll sit with the coaches and try to devise a plan. I don't know much about her game but the thing is she also doesn't know my game. So let's see how it goes. I'll do my best," Saweety noted.

Indian fans have been making their presence felt in the championship. Saweety's family (her brother and sister and her husband Deepak Hooda, who's a well-established kabaddi player) have also been vocal, egging her on from the stands. The fans and her family members will be hoping that she can sign off with a gold medal around her neck.sband Deepak Hooda, who's a well-established kabaddi player) have also been vocal, egging her on from the stands. Arundhati turns spiritual to reignite her dreams

GOMESH S @ Navi Mumbai

Arundhati Reddy (R) of Delhi Capitals in action during a WPL match | SPORTZPICS

ARUNDHATI Reddy usually doesn't like her mother coming to watch her play. It had been the case even in the early days when her mom, Bhagya, used to drop her for practice in Hyderabad. It was not that she was tense or afraid; she was shy.

"I don't know why but I used to feel very shy even when I was very young, when my mom used to come and drop me for practice or matches. I used to get a little awkward with my mom being there," the India and Delhi Capitals all-rounder tells this daily.

For the past eight years, Bhagya hasn't watched her daughter play in person

Which is why, when Arundhati asked her mom to come for a game or two during the ongoing Women's Premier League, she was surprised. Having played most of her India games overseas, the Hyderabad all-rounder has had very little opportunity to ask Bhagya to come and watch her play. When the WPL came along, it felt like the right moment for the 25-year-old to make it happen, especially with the crowd and her experience in the stadium. And her mother was not disappointed when she turned up for the match against Royal Challengers Bangalore on March 13 at the DY Patil Stadium in Navi Mumbai. "She loved it," says an elated Arundhati. "My friends and family took videos and photos of her and she was so excited. Even after the game when I met her, she was extremely happy. That's when I felt very happy that my mother was watching me play. In fact, she is going to come for the final as well."

Why will she not be? After all, it was Bhagya, as a single mother, who backed Arudhati's love for cricket when she was 11. For Bhagya, all that mattered was her daughter's dream; the things that people said weren't relevant. And the dream did come true soon enough as Arundhati rose through the ranks rapidly to make her India debut at 20. The hyper-enthusiastic pacer who can hit the ball long found herself filling the shoes of the legendary Jhulan Goswami in the shortest format.

Since then, she was a regular in the T20s, playing in two T20 World Cups in 2018 and 2020, respectively. And when the women's side returned to the field after the pandemic, Arundhati was a regular in the playing XI for a couple of series before warming the bench in Australia. After that she was left out of the squad in 2022. She hasn't been picked since.

"It was really hard at the start. It took me some time, I won't lie, after that I just started to focus on the present and where I am and not think too far ahead of what I want to do." She started putting in the hard yards in training without focusing on results. For her, whether things went well or not did not matter, it was all about giving her 100 per cent. As she tried to remain calm as a person unaffected by the results, something that unnatural for her personality, things took a turn for good with Arundhati picking up 15 wickets in the 2022-23 domestic season.

However, the reason for her calmness wasn't just the work she had put in on the field. There was more to it. "I have become very spiritual and that is something that has really helped me. Earlier, I wasn't very spiritual but I don't know how it got into me. In the past one year, I have become extremely spiritual. I think that is what has calmed me down a lot. A lot has changed, but it has changed for good."

As the all-rounder tries to focus on remaining calm and enjoying every moment in the lead up to the WPL final on Sunday, there is a fire burning inside as well. The India comeback. Like any cricketer, she, too, wants to play and win matches for India and win the World Cup, especially having watched the last two editions (2022 ODI and 2023 T20) from home. "When you sit and watch from home it is not fun because you want to be part of that. The biggest motivation for me is winning the World Cup for India. That is always going to be there and until I get there I am not going to stop."

Sciver-Brunt, Wong take Mumbai into WPL final

Nat Sciver-Brunt | SPORTZPICS

GOMESH S @ Navi Mumbai

THERE was something peculiar about the way Nat Sciver-Brunt batted against India in the 2023 T20 World Cup clash in Gqeberha. In the lead-up to the match, the conversation had been around whether the England batters were going to keep an eye on the Indian spinners' delivery stride to ensure they were staying behind the crease at the non-striker's end. Sciver-Brunt, however, was doing more than just that.

Brief scores: MI 182/4 in 20 ovs (Nat 72 n.o, Kerr 29) bt UPW 110 in 17.4 ovs (Navgire 43, Wong 4/15).

In what was a crucial phase of play, the all-rounder was navigating the Indian spinners with ease. How? She was keeping a close eye on the release of the ball and what the delivery does from the non-striker's end and was passing information, first to Heather Knight and then to Amy Jones. Her 42-ball 50 might not have been the most impactful knock of the day, but what she did on the field was.

Cut to March 24, 2023 and she found herself in the middle, this time for Mumbai Indians at the DY Patil Stadium, against the likes of Deepti Sharma and Rajeshwari Yadav, the duo she had taken apart at Gqeberha. It was the eliminator of the Women's Premier League and the all-rounder stepped up to the occasion. She smashed an unbeaten 72 from 38 balls and helped Mumbai finish with 182/4. However, the scorecard doesn't tell the full story. Having been dropped by her England teammate Sophie Ecclestone, she capitalised. Against Ecclestone, she read the line early to shuffle across and lap her behind the square. When Parshavi Chopra took a wicket, she put pressure on her immediately by rocking back and pulling her to the ropes. Against Sharma, she did not hesitate to jump down the track to hit her down the ground.

She brought up her fifty in 26 balls. From thereon, it was just carnage. Perhaps, what did not go their way is the fact that they had left out Shabnim Ismail for Harris. As a result, Sciver-Brunt faced 33 of her 38 balls from spinners from which she hit 65 runs. In reply, Warriorz managed only 110 as Issy Wong proved too hot to handle, a hattrick the icing on her figures of 4/15 in four overs.

No transgender athletes in women's events: WA

AFP @ Paris

TRANSGENDER women will no longer be allowed to compete in female track and field events regardless of their levels of testosterone, World Athletics president Sebastian Coe said Thursday, citing fairness over inclusion. Coe said no transgender athlete who had gone through male puberty would be permitted to compete in female world ranking competitions from March 31.

Speaking after a meeting of the global track and field federation's decision-making body, Coe said World Athletics had consulted with stakeholders including 40 national federations, the International Olympic Committee (IOC) and trans groups about the issue of transgender athletes.

"The majority of those consulted stated that transgender athletes should not be competing in the female category," he said. "The judgement we took... was, I believe, in the best interests of our sport."

Kane helps England beat Italy 2-1

AFP @ London

HARRY Kane became England's all-time leading goalscorer as the Three Lions enjoyed a perfect start to Euro 2024 qualifying by winning 2-1 away to Italy on Thursday, as Cristiano Ronaldo scored twice on his record 197th cap in Portugal's 4-0 win over Liechtenstein.Kane netted his 54th goal for England in his 81st international appearance from the penalty spot in Naples after Declan Rice had fired the visitors into an early lead.

The England captain moves clear of the record mark he had shared with Wayne Rooney. "Thanks to everyone who's helped me get to this stage. It's a great night. We haven't won in Italy for so long so to score, and win this game, is just special," said Kane. Gareth Southgate's men gained some measure of revenge for their defeat by the Azzurri in the Euro 2020 final.In their first match since bowing out in agonising fashion to France in the World Cup quarter-finals, England were dominant in the first 45 minutes.

History for Ronaldo

Ronaldo marked Roberto Martinez's bow as Portugal boss with another historic night in Lisbon. The 38-year-old, who was dropped from the Portuguese starting XI during the World Cup, set a new record for men's international appearances by passing the previous mark of 196 caps held by Kuwait's Bader Al-Mutawa. Portugal won 4-0 with Ronaldo scoring twice.

In the same group, Rade Krunic scored twice as Bosnia and Herzegovina swept aside Iceland 3-0.

Euro 2020 semi-finalists Denmark beat Finland 3-1 in Copenhagen.

US govt plans to overhaul organ transplant system

HEALTH

WASHINGTON: The Biden administration said on Wednesday it will attempt to break up the network that runs the nation's organ transplant system as part of a broader modernisation effort. More people than ever are getting new organs, with a record 42,888 transplants last year—but that's not nearly enough to meet the demand. More than 100,000 patients are on the national transplant list, thousands die waiting and critics have long urged an overhaul to save more lives.

The United Network for Organ Sharing, or UNOS, is a nonprofit organisation that has run the transplant system, under a government contract, for nearly four decades.

That includes overseeing the groups that retrieve organs, helping set policies for how organs are distributed and patients are prioritised—and running the massive computer system that matches organs with patients.

Now the government aims to end that monopoly and divide those duties among more than one group. Exactly how that will work isn't clear. The Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) will issue bids for new contracts in the fall but wouldn't say how many.

However, a top focus is modernising that organ-matching technology and improving accountability in the complex transplant system, including greater independence of the boards that set organ policies.

Patients will be better served "by ensuring there's competition in this process and that we're getting best-in-class" to handle the different transplant functions, HRSA Administrator Carole Johnson said in an interview.

Also Wednesday, HRSA took initial steps to translate some of the government's data on organ donation and transplantation into an easier-to-understand website for patients and families, data that can help them decide how to pursue care.

The Biden administration also has requested that Congress more than double HRSA's funding for transplant oversight, to $67 million next year.

Wednesday's announcement doesn't directly address some tougher problems, such as that potentially usable organs too often aren't retrieved from would-be donors and that hospitals often decline to use less-than-perfect organs that could help the right patient. An influential science panel last year urged the government to set performance goals addressing those and other challenges.

UNOS announced its own set of planned improvements to the transplant system in January and in a statement on Wednesday, said it was committed to working with the government. "We believe we have the experience and expertise required to best serve the nation's patients and to help implement HRSA's proposed initiatives," the nonprofit said in a statement.

Northern lights research

STUDY

Scientists in Sweden put on a light show in the night sky on Thursday, releasing material from a sounding rocket to research the spectacular northern lights phenomena. The northern lights, also known as aurora borealis, appear as swathes of blue, green lights flickering across the sky. Researchers at the Swedish Institute of Space Physics sent up the rocket from the Esrange Space Centre in the country's far north, releasing materials similar to those in fireworks into the sky at an altitude of between 100-200 km. The experiment was part of aurora research aimed at helping scientists improve near-space weather forecasts to protect satellites.

Nord stream owner called to recover object

ENERGY

COPENHAGEN: Denmark has invited the Russian-controlled operator of the Nord Stream 2 pipeline to help recover a mystery object that was spotted near the pipeline, six months after sections were sabotaged.

Russian President Vladimir Putin, who revealed the discovery of the object earlier this month, said experts believe that it could be a signal antenna to activate an explosive in that part of the pipeline.

Object found near Nord Stream 2 pipeline in Danish waters of Baltic sea

German, Swedish and Danish authorities are investigating the undersea explosions that sparked four leaks on the two Nord Stream pipelines in the Baltic Sea in September, seven months after Russia invaded Ukraine. The Danish energy agency released a photo late on Thursday of the cylindrical object standing near the Nord Stream 2 pipeline at the bottom of the sea.

The agency said it is "possible" that the object is a maritime smoke buoy, 40 centimetres tall and 10 cm wide, and that it "does not pose an immediate safety risk".

"With a view to further clarifying the nature of the object, Danish authorities have decided to salvage the object with assistance from the Danish Defence," it said in a statement.

Macron under pressure as protests lead to bloodspill

King Charles III's visit cancelled amid unrest over pension reforms

PARIS

FRENCH President Emmanuel Macron faced mounting pressure on Friday after violent demonstrations that left more than 400 security forces injured and the centre of major cities shrouded in tear gas and smoke.

More than 450 people were arrested on Thursday during the most violent day of protests since the start of the year against Macron's bid to raise the retirement age to 64.

The French presidency announced Friday that King Charles III's visit next week had been postponed after unions declared fresh strikes and protests on Tuesday, during what would have been the British monarch's trip.

"Given the announcement yesterday of another national day of protests against pension reform on Tuesday, March 28, the visit of Charles III, initially scheduled from 26-28 March, has been postponed," it said.

The decision was "in order to be able to welcome His Majesty King Charles III in conditions which reflect our friendly relations," it added.

"There were a lot of demonstrations and some of them turned violent, notably in Paris," Interior Minister Darmanin told the CNews channel while giving figures for the number of arrests and injuries. More than 900 fires were lit around the capital on Thursday, he said, with radical anarchist groups blamed for setting uncollected rubbish ablaze and smashing shop windows, leading to frequent clashes with riot police.

Protesters gather around a fire during a demonstration of Totalenergies striking employees outside the Gronfreville-l'Orcher refinery in northern France | AFP

In southwestern Bordeaux, protesters set fire to the entrance to city hall, briefly raising fears for the whole building until firefighters arrived to extinguish it.

"Why would you make a target of our communal building, of all people of Bordeaux? I can only condemn it in the strongest possible terms," the mayor of Bordeaux, Pierre Hurmic, told RTL radio on Friday.

More than a million people marched nationwide on Thursday, with the protest movement reinvigorated by Macron's tactics and statements over the last week.

Uproar over legislation to change the retirement age — which Macron pushed through parliament without a vote last week — has created another huge domestic crisis for the president just 10 months into his second term in office.

IRANIAN HANDS

Tehran denies deploying regular troops to Syria but says its Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps has "military advisers" with pro-regime forces

Kataeb Hezbollah, a pro-Iran group operating under the umbrella of Iraq's Hashed al-Shaabi network of militias, is one of the best-known

Iran's ally, the Lebanese Shiite movement Hezbollah, has also deployed advisers and commanders in the region since it officially announced its military backing for Assad

The area near Iraq border is a key segment of the route that pro-Iran armed groups use to move fighters, weapons and even consumer goods between Iraq and Syria

US-Iran rivalry in Syria

The US military operation occurred in the eastern province of Deir Ezzor, which is bisected by the Euphrates river with a patchwork of pro-Iran forces having taken up positions on opposing banks pro-Iran proxy fighters from Iraq, Afghanistan and Pakistan are deployed in Deir Ezzor, according to the Syrian Observatory for Human Rights war monitor

U.S. BASES

US-led coalition forces, which entered Syria in 2014 to fight IS, have set up bases in the Al-Omar oil field, the country's largest, as well as the Conoco gas field

In 2016, they set up a remote base in the strategic Al-Tanf region in southern Syria, near the borders with Jordan and Iraq

US' Syria strike kills 14 pro-Iran fighters

BEIRUT

FOURTEEN pro-Iran fighters were killed in US air strikes on Syria carried out in retaliation for a drone attack that left an American dead and wounded six others, a war monitor said Friday.

A US contractor was killed, and another contractor and five US service personnel were wounded, when a kamikaze drone "of Iranian origin" struck a maintenance facility on a base of the US-led coalition near Hasakeh in northeastern Syria, the Pentagon said. In response, US Defence Secretary Lloyd Austin said on Thursday that, at President Joe Biden's direction, he had ordered "precision air strikes tonight in eastern Syria against facilities used by groups affiliated with Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps".

"The air strikes were conducted in response to today's attack as well as a series of recent attacks against coalition forces in Syria by groups affiliated with the IRGC," Austin said. Iran-backed militias have a heavy presence across Syria, especially around the border with Iraq and south and west of the Euphrates in Deir Ezzor province, where the latest US strikes took place. The Syrian Observatory for Human Rights, a Britain-based monitor with a wide network of sources on the ground in the war-torn country, said 11 people had been killed by US strikes, including two Syrians.

"US strikes targeted a weapons depot inside Deir Ezzor city, killing six pro-Iran fighters, and two other fighters were killed by strikes targeting the desert of Al-Mayadeen, and three others near Albu Kamal," said the Observatory's head Rami Abdel Rahman. On Friday morning, Iran-backed groups stationed near the city of Al-Mayadeen fired three missiles near a US base, said Abdel Rahman. Two missiles fell in Syria's largest oil field, Al-Omar, which houses the US base, without causing damage, while the third landed on a civilian house nearby, he added.

The United States deploys about 900 troops in bases and posts across northeastern Syria as part of the international coalition fighting remnants of the Islamic State group (IS). American troops also support the Syrian Democratic Forces (SDF), the Kurds' de facto army in the area, which led the battle that dislodged IS from the last scraps of their Syrian territory in 2019. The US personnel have frequently been targeted in attacks by militia groups.

Two of the US service members wounded on Thursday were treated on site, while the three other troops and one US contractor were medically evacuated to Iraq, the Pentagon said. "We will always take all necessary measures to defend our people and will always respond at a time and place of our choosing," said, the commander of US Central Command.

In January, the US military said "three one-way attack drones" were launched against the coalition garrison at Al-Tanf in Syria. AFP

REFORM PUSH

Protests in London as Netanyahu meets Sunak

LONDON

HUNDREDS of protesters rallied on Friday outside Downing Street in central London to heckle the arrival of Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu for a meeting with his British counterpart Rishi Sunak.

Netanyahu has faced weeks of escalating protests in Israel over his government's judicial reform programme, which would increase politicians' power over the courts and critics argue is a threat to democracy.

Demonstrators in the UK capital, many holding Israeli flags and placards critical of the country's veteran leader, shouted "shame" in Hebrew as he greeted Sunak at the door of 10 Downing Street.

They erected the letters of the word "democracy" on Whitehall opposite the entrance to the gated street, while wielding signs accusing Netanyahu of dragging Israel towards "dictatorship".

"It's important to be here because maybe at some point they won't have the right to protest in Israel," Dana Drori, a mother-of-two in her 30s, told AFP at the protest, alongside her young daughters.

"It's anger, it's sadness," she said of her emotions.

In a televised address hours before departing for London, Netanyahu pledged to restore unity within his increasingly fractured country, but gave little away about how he would do that while still pursuing the reforms. Some of Israel's allies abroad, including the leaders in the United States and Germany, have raised concerns about the controversial overhaul.

However, Sunak and his ministers have not commented on it. The UK government released few details about the two-day visit, but Netanyahu's office said in a statement his meeting with the British leader will "focus on the Iranian issue".

The pair will discuss "the need to formulate a united international front against Iran in order to stop its nuclear program", it added.

They are also expected to talk about strengthening bilateral "strategic ties" as well as issues including the war in Ukraine and developments in the Middle East, the statement noted. AFP

Saudi Arabia in talks with Syria on resuming consular services

RIYADH

SAUDI Arabia and Syria are in talks on resuming consular services, Saudi state media said Thursday, more than a decade after the Gulf kingdom cut ties with President Bashar al-Assad's regime.

"A discussion is underway between officials in the kingdom and their counterparts in Syria about resuming the provision of consular services," state-affiliated channel Al-Ekhbariya said, citing a Saudi foreign ministry official.

The report gave no timeline for the move, which would mark the latest Saudi step towards mending rifts with regional rivals.

Earlier this month, a Chinese-brokered deal was announced to restore diplomatic ties between Saudi Arabia and Iran, seven years after they had been severed. Riyadh has been hinting at a rapprochement with Syria for weeks.

It sent aid to both rebel-held and government-controlled parts of the country in the aftermath of a devastating earthquake that struck southeastern Turkey and northern Syria on February 6, killing tens of thousands of people.

That effort did not involve direct contact with Assad's internationally isolated government, and Saudi officials instead coordinated with the Syrian Red Crescent on aid going into government-controlled territory. Damascus has seen amplified Arab engagement since the quake, including from governments that have so far resisted normalisation after more than a decade of war.

Saudi Foreign Minister Prince Faisal bin Farhan said in February that a consensus was building in the Arab world that a new approach to Syria requiring negotiations with Damascus would be needed to address humanitarian crises.

"There is a consensus within the Arab world that the status quo is not working and that we need to find some other approach," Prince Faisal told the Munich Security Conference.

"What that approach is, is still being formulated," he added. Ayham Kamel, West Asia and North Africa researcher for Eurasia Group, said Saudi Arabia's de facto ruler, Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman, would like to see "a more stable environment" in the region that would let him focus on domestic issues.

"The domestic economic modernisation agenda requires a more stable environment and therefore the deals that are emerging," Kamel told AFP.

The Saudi foreign minister said policy shifts on Syria could also help Syrian refugees in neighbouring countries.

On Sunday, Assad visited the UAE, where President Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan told him it was time for Damascus to be reintegrated into the wider Arab region. AFP

China warns of consequences as US ship sails near island

BEIJING

CHINA threatened "serious consequences" on Friday after the US Navy sailed a destroyer around the disputed Paracel Islands in the South China Sea for the second day in a row, in a move Beijing claimed was a violation of its sovereignty.

The warning comes amid growing tensions between China and the United States in the region, as Washington pushes back at Beijing's growingly assertive posture in the South China Sea, a strategic waterway it claims virtually in its entirety. On Thursday, after the US sailed the USS Milius guided-missile destroyer near the Paracel Islands, China said its navy and air force had forced the American vessel away, a claim the US military denied.

The US on Friday sailed the ship again in the vicinity of the islands, which are occupied by China but also claimed by Taiwan and Vietnam, as part of what it called a "freedom of navigation operation" challenging requirements from all three nations requiring either advance notification or permission before a military vessel sails by. "Unlawful and sweeping maritime claims in the South China Sea pose a serious threat to the freedom of the seas, including the freedoms of navigation and overflight, free trade and unimpeded commerce, and freedom of economic opportunity for South China Sea littoral nations," said US 7th Fleet spokesman. PTI

Ethnic enclaves fuelling UK disharmony: Report

LONDON

A fact-finding report into the violent clashes between groups of men on the streets of Leicester following an India-Pakistan Asia Cup cricket match in Dubai last year has warned of ethnic enclaves or ghettos of migrants in the eastern England city as a key factor behind communal tension.

The Delhi-based Centre for Democracy, Pluralism and Human Rights (CDPHR) think tank, which launched its report at a Committee Room in the House of Commons on Thursday, sheds light on the events that took place in August-September last year and their human rights implications.

In its "Fact-finding report on Leicester Violence 2022" The rise of territorial majoritarianism and Hinduphobia', the think tank calls for immediate action to address the underlying issues that led to the Leicester violence such as the rise of extremism and hate speech.

"There were two kinds of stories circulating around the violence that occurred, which is the motivation behind this fact-finding report," explained Rashmi Samant of the ATMAH non-profit organisation and one of the co-authors of the report.

"What we found was that different religious groups in east Leicester, ground zero of the unrest, are living in ethnic enclaves with some ethnicities clubbed up in some spaces more than others. This phenomenon is not common in the United Kingdom but we found it continues to happen in Leicester because of the spillover effect involving migrants from countries like Pakistan and Bangladesh," she said.

NORTH KOREA SAYS IT TESTED UNDERWATER NUCLEAR DRONE

Picture released by North Korea shows the underwater nuclear strategic attack weapon system firing in the water near country's South Hamgyong province | AFP

SEOUL

NORTH Korea claimed on Friday to have tested a nuclear-capable underwater drone designed to generate a gigantic "radioactive tsunami" that would destroy naval strike groups and ports.

Analysts were skeptical that the device presents a major new threat, but the test underlines the North's commitment to raising nuclear threats.

The test this week came as the US reportedly planned to deploy aircraft carrier strike groups and other advanced assets to waters off the Korean Peninsula. Pyongyang's official Korean Central News Agency said the new weapon, which can be deployed from the coast or towed by surface ships, is built to "stealthily infiltrate into operational waters and make a super-scale radioactive tsunami through an underwater explosion" to destroy enemy naval strike groups and ports.

The testing of the purported "nuclear underwater attack drone" was part of a three-day exercise that simulated nuclear attacks on unspecified South Korean targets, which also included cruise missile launches on Wednesday.

KCNA said the North's latest tests were aimed at alerting the US and South Korea of a brewing 'nuclear crisis' as they continue with their "intentional, persistent and provocative war drills."

Russia has also reportedly developed a similar weapon — nuclear-capable Poseidon torpedoes — but mastering the complex technology required for such weaponry might yet be beyond North Korea, experts said.

"For an unmanned submarine to go deep underwater undetected, it requires advanced technology such as control sensors and radar," Choi Gi-il, professor of military studies at Sangji University told AFP.

North Korea has not acquired this "to an extent that it can deploy nuclear unmanned sea drones in combat yet," but its claims about the Haeil drone fit a broader pattern, Choi said.

Pyongyang's claims about a new weapons system are not the same as a credible demonstration of capability

Old style, new ways

This city-based model's venture Rosy Auntie's latest drop are vintage scarves from Italy; these silk scarves are hand-printed with quirky prints

MONIKA MONALISA

SEASONED with time yet so relevant today. The beauty of vintage is that it's irreplaceable even in the fashion world. City-based model Irene Augustin's thrift shop venture, Rosy Auntie, which is known for getting vintage fashion collections from across the globe, had its latest drop...vintage scarves.

The collection has scarves that come all the way from Italy. Made of silk, and hand-printed with quirky designs, these scarves are versatile. Being a globetrotter helps Augustin choose the right kind of picks for Rosy Auntie. Why scarves? "I bought this scarf and went on a trip to the south of France. And I met this lady. We just happened to become friends. She came up to me and said, 'Oh, I have a bunch of stuff that you may just like'. She had these two unique vintage scarves from the 1980s and 1990s," she says.

Summer is here and Bengaluru girls are ready to experiment with scarves that can be styled in various ways. "When you're travelling on a bike, you can cover your head with it. When you get off the bike, you can take it off and tie it around the back. Sometimes, I tie it around my neck," suggest Augustin about the scarves which start from ₹3,000.

SCARVES OVER THE DECADES

Skinny scarves were popular in the '20s and were tied around the neck in a 'pussy-bow style'

In the '30s, scarf clips/buckles were used to accessorise without ruining delicate silk threads

In the '40s, scarves kept hair out of women's faces

The '50s saw neck scarves paired with sweater sets

The '60s had waterproof scarves that could protect hair if it was caught in the rain

In the '70s, scarves were used more creatively like belts and tops

By the '80s, they were mostly used in the form of layering

Musician Ritviz, who is known for tracks Udd Gaye and Jeet and Sage, is out with his first album Mimmi, a tribute to his mother; for the promotion of the album, he is extensively touring the country and is in Bengaluru currently

HITTING THE RIGHT NOTE

TUNIR BISWAS AND MONIKA MONALISA

WITH many superhit tracks like Udd Gaye and Jeet and Sage to his credit, musician Ritviz is debuting with his first album Mimmi. The singer, who did a national tour for the promotion of the album, has reached the last leg of the tour in Bengaluru, where he is going to perform on March 25.

The album is a tribute to his 'Mimmi', as he calls his mother. The album has eight tracks and includes songs like Aaj Na, Mehfooz and Mimmi, Pukaar and Aas Paas which reflect Ritviz's signature style – nostalgia. "Mimmi is completely different. All my previous journeys have been about me trying to figure out what I want. All those desires were turned into music. But with my latest project, I started realising that all of these are reflections of what I am doing – with a sense of nostalgia," says Ritviz.

Being a known name in the independent music scene, Ritviz is quite hopeful that Indian musicians understand their true potential by not trying to look for validation from the west. "In India, we try to replicate the west. In order to understand what our sound is, we have to try to do what is authentic to us. We are not there yet but we are getting there. I feel in a lot of ways we are so culturally-rich, we should be standing higher than the west but we tend to look up to them. We have a bit of a colonial hangover. But the minute we realise that we are an authority, we will achieve further," says the 26-year-old musician.

Ritviz made international headlines when his song led the way in the Ms Marvel series, adding the Indian touch to it. "I got a chance to work with people who allowed me to do things that I am good at. I think it is very important to have creative freedom. All my shows have been that way. I also choose projects where I am allowed to be myself. Ms Marvel was an especially great project because Sana, the co-creator, understood the music and realised that this is a collaboration," says Ritviz.

With a large fan base in Bengaluru, the musician has been visiting the city for his shows from 2015, but finds the city different each time he comes here. "Every time is a new experience because each time I have been in a different stage of my career. I have met a lot of local musicians but have not got a chance to work with them. I am looking forward to collaborations," says the musician, who are excited about ending the tour with a bang.

(Ritviz Mimmi Album Launch Tour is happening at Manpho Convention Centre, on March 25, 5pm onwards)

SAVASANA VARIATION ARMS OUT
(PENTACLE POSE)

Pentacle Pose is the arms spread out at shoulder level variation of Savasana (Corpse Pose). It's the best cooling pose after a yoga session or any physical activity. It allows a soft yet deep connection with the body without you forcefully resting on the ground.

STEPS

- Lie down, ensuring the lower back, upper shoulders, back of the head, and calf touch the floor.
- Inhale, spread the legs more than hip distance apart, allowing your feet to fall naturally out to the sides.
- Relax the outer feet on the floor by pointing the toes outwards and heels inwards.
- Now, spread your arms to the sides of the floor, in line with your shoulders, allowing gravity to help settle the body.
- Finally, close your eyes, bring your chin down, and relax your body, allowing all the muscles to release their tension.
- Breathe deeply and steadily. Practise initially for 8-10 minutes and gradually move to 15 minutes without straining.
- To release, inhale, bring your arms and legs back together and then roll over to one side (left side preferably) in Side Lying Corpse Pose.
- Turning onto the left side gradually redirects the blood flow into the rest of the body, reducing the risk of dizziness.
- Slowly open your eyes when you feel comfortable and ready and sit up.
- Stay for about one minute before getting up and standing.

BENEFITS

- Best for mental stress, depression, high blood pressure, heart disease and insomnia.
- Can cure weakness of nervous system, tiredness and negative thinking.
- Body, mind, brain and soul get complete rest, power, motivation and happiness.
- Concentration power is developed.
- Practising in between other asanas relieves the tiredness of the body in a short span.
- Relaxes the entire body muscles.
- This pose is about being mindful and aware of the breath.
- Rejuvenates your body by bringing sufficient oxygen to the muscles and releases any trapped tensions.
- Enriches the mind and ultimately boosts memory and concentration.
- Perform to regain energy instantly if you are tired or stressed.

LIMITATIONS

Don't tilt your head towards the shoulders. If you have a back injury, perform with bent knees

Avoid if disturbed or distracted, during later stages of pregnancy, or if you can't lie on your back.

KASA KAI BENGALURU!

I HAVE been in Mumbai for the last 20-odd days and every morning as I inhale large gulps of the sea air, I miss my ooru! It's strange, isn't it? A city that was my home for most of my adult life, where my in-laws and my daughter and granddaughter (my biggest attraction) reside, has me pining to go back to the city of my birth.

Not many people love Mumbai. They find it large, impersonal and non-inclusive. A city that is always in a hurry, never sleeps, has no concept of neighbourliness and a city where one is evaluated by the clothes you wear, the car you drive and the size of your bank accounts and investments. Whew! A long list indeed, but never further than the truth.

Mumbai is like any mega metropolis the world over. Not bundled with the weight of bureaucracy, the city runs like clockwork to sustain itself as one of the largest financial capitals in the world. Way back in the day when I worked in Mumbai, I asked the then police commissioner, Julio Ribeiro, why so many people migrated into the city. His answer was concise and simple. He said, 'Nobody dies of hunger here'. All of us who have lived here have witnessed the way the inhabitants of this mighty city, come together to help people in need. Here, you don't belong to the north or the south and caste, colour and creed have no place in the grand scheme of things. Migrant or not...nothing trumps being a 'Mumbaiker'.

Danish and Nadia Ansari

This city has witnessed bomb blasts, riots floods and pestilence (Covid) in the most severe form...but like true warriors, the people have tackled it headlong and helped each other out in the most unimaginable sense. Benefaction is in their DNA. A city of dreams where one can realise one's dreams in many different ways.

Comparisons are odious! Each city is defined by its own kaleidoscope of experiences. Bengaluru has an easygoing vibe that can be both charming and irritating! Everyone has a pace at which they work and rushing them seems to bring out the worst in them. I have seen a couple of news clips of the normal 'chill-madi' Bengaluru techie, auto-driver and our local folk going quite ballistic about the language issue. Now there seems to be a south-south divide! I sincerely hope that our 'men in white' don't fan these sentiments and let us 'ooru-wallas' be. We have always been the envy of all the other cities for our 'chillax' attitude, weather and inclusiveness. Yes! We tend to be a little laid-back work-wise but it's the beautiful weather that is at fault!

However, much our bureaucracy tries to cut us down, like the proverbial Gulmohur tree our mangled roots sprout fresh shoots every time we are chopped. I miss my city, but my family here goes all out to cheer me up. A gaggle of us went to an old haunt that we used to frequent during our school days in Mumbai. The Ling's Pavillion hasn't changed much as the food is still good and the portions even better. With my young friend Danish Ansari's myriad of medical complaints about eating fresh and good food and Ling's Pavillion came out as a winner.

The newest addition to Bengaluru's pub scene, 'Baadshah', hopes to distinguish itself with its unique Bollywood theme and gastronomically-crafted cocktail offerings

EXPRESS FEATURES

BENGALURU'S bustling pub scene is about to get an exciting addition with the launch of a brand new establishment in Koramangala. 'Baadshah', which had a soft launch earlier this week, promises to bring a unique experience to Bengalureans seeking freshness in the city's oversaturated pub scene. This, with a retro Bollywood theme and a specially-curated menu of drinks and multi-cuisine food.

"We have a specially curated menu of over 50 different cocktails, and a well-balanced multi-cuisine menu to cater to Bengaluru's diverse crowd. We have everything from coastal to continental and South Indian. Basically, there's something for everyone in the city," shares Prakhyath Shetty, managing partner of Baadshah Koramangala. "The decor is designed to transport patrons back to the '80s and the '90s, and incorporates several design elements that pay homage to Bollywood from the period."

Originally established in Manipal as a pocket-friendly watering hole for university students, Baadshah hopes to tap into a wider market with its expansion into Bengaluru. Funded by Shetty, along with Vilas Nayak, an entrepreneur, Raghavendra Shetty, a civil contractor, and Dr Puneeth Shetty, an orthopaedic surgeon, Baadshah has all the elements of a typical pub – a dance floor and a DJ station. But where it stands out from the rest is with its other offerings. During the daytime, Shetty hopes that the pub can be a cafe-esque place for working professionals to get work done and then transform into a fun space by dusk.

"We are also planning specially curated music events, along with game nights and standup comedy events. In upcoming months, we plan to launch an open-air Sunday brunch in our terrace area," Shetty says, adding that they have been gradually testing their offerings with intimate tasting events. "We had a couple of cocktail and food tasting sessions, where we invited family and friends, along with a few cricketers and socialites from the city. As we prepare to open the doors to a wider public, we look forward to having more people," he concludes.

I believe that what works for one actor might not work for another actor. I have always focused to be part of films, which are rich in content, and gives me an impactful role. Even though Bali is an antagonist, he will linger in people's mind for long

Naveen Shankar, actor

'THE MAKERS WANTED A PERFORMER TO PLAY THE VILLAIN'

... says Gultoo hero, Naveen Shankar, who will be playing a negative shade in Dhananjay starter Gurudev Hoysala

CE FEATURES

IT is not often that an actor gets to experiment with a variety of roles, and Naveen has got one such in Gurudev Hoysala. The actor, who was noted for his performance in his first film Gultoo, went on to be a part of multi-starers like Dharani Mandala Madhyadolage, and latest Ondisi Bareyiri.

He plays a negative shaded character for the first time in Gurudev Hoysala. 'What influenced Naveen to take up this character, when he is establishing himself as a hero in the industry?' "I always had the interest in playing negative characters, but never expected to be approached so early in my career," admits the four films old actor. "It was Dhananjay and production house KRG Studios who gave me that confidence, to pull off this. He specificially said that it was not a regular antagonist, and has a lot of depth. Later I was asked to listen to the story, and when I understood that the character sketched by the director Vijay N especially for the villain was not a regular one, it convinced me to be part of the project.," says Naveen, on the sidelines of the release on March 30, and expressed his anxiety to know the audience's reaction to his role.

He shares that he treats every role like a lead. "The audience only differentiate the characters as good or bad, for me, it is just a character." Naveen explains that he had to go through a physical transformation for the character. "The makers were particular that they did not want the villain to look lile a model, but a person who can perform well and carry the depth of the role well. Even though Hoysala is projected as a commercial entertainer, there is a beautiful arch to the villain's role. Gurudev played by Dhananjay is a strong character and it is almost equal to my Bali, who is cold, and he is animalistic, " says Naveen, adding, "The transformation between every character is required for an actor. I'm glad that I'm getting to do that often."

Naveen Shankar

Naveen says that he is excited for his face-off with Dhananjay in the film. "Dhananjay came to be known as Daali after his antagonist role in Tagaru. This film will see him in a role of an intense cop. So the intensity had to be maintained." Asked if he took inspirations from Dhananjay for his role as a villain? "I don't think so. I believe that what works for one actor might not work for another actor. I have always focused to be part of films, which are rich in content, and gives me an impactful role. Even though Bali is an antagonist, he will linger in people's mind for long."

Up next from Naveen will be Kshetrapati, which is getting ready for release. " I am glad that the audience will get to experience Kshetrapati teaser in theatres. It will be released along with Gurudev Hoysala."
